Drought Watch Declared For Thirty-Four Counties In Susquehanna River Basin

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Officials from the state Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and the Susquehanna River Basin Commission (SRBC) Thursday, declared a drought watch for 34 Pennsylvania counties in the Susquehanna River Basin.

A drought watch is the first and least severe of the three drought declarations. It calls for a voluntary five percent reduction of non-essential water use. A drought warning, the second stage of the three drought declarations, calls for a 10 percent voluntary reduction in water consumption, and a drought emergency, the third and most severe stage, imposes mandatory restrictions on water use. A drought emergency was last declared in Pennsylvania in September 1995.

Lt. Gov. Mark Schweiker, who chairs the Pennsylvania Emergency Management Council, has requested that a working group of the council's drought task force meet Friday morning to evaluate the current and possible long-range effects of the drought on the state's public health and safety, business community and agricultural industry. Members of the task force include representatives from the departments of Agriculture, Conservation and Natural Resources, Environmental Protection, General Services, Health, Military Affairs, State Police, the Public Utility Commission and the Pennsylvania Emergency Management Agency.

"Without significant precipitation, conditions are deteriorating rapidly in the central part of the state," DEP Secretary James M. Seif said. "We are asking residents and businesses alike to voluntarily cut back their daily water use to avoid a more serious situation in the near future."

"SRBC's commissioners voted just this morning to declare a drought watch for the entire Susquehanna River basin including

ANDY ANDREWS

STEVENS (Lancaster Co.) — Exactly 221 golfers braved intense heat and humidity Monday to spend a day having fun and raising money for the largest youth agricultural organization in the world — FFA.

They assembled from all around the region at two golf courses — Foxchase near Stevens and Hawk Valley near Bowmansville — to golf. Cost was $85 a person.

Their mission: have fun, but at the same time support the Pennsylvania FFA Foundation at its chief fundraising event.

The occasion: The fifth annual Hoss's Fore FFA Golf Tournament and Dinner/Auction. It was the first time the event was held at two courses.

Kerry Hoffman, FFA Foundation secretary and event coordinator, noted that because of the huge turnout at last year's event, two courses were needed. Each course easily accommodated more than 200 golfers.

Finishing in first place at Hawk

Finishing in first place at Fox Chase with a score of 59, best score of the day, was, from left, Scott Gold, John Coldiron, Dave Huston, and Steve Moran.

A.I.-Infected Flock Will Be Used For Tests

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A flock of 90,000 laying hens was highly suspected of carrying the avian influenza (A.I.) virus on Monday, according to Dr. Phil Debok, chief of the animal health division of the Pa. Bureau of Animal Health.

The flock is the 10th flock in Lancaster County identified as A.I. infected, though positive confirmation of A.I. was not available as of presstime.

On Tuesday the 11th flock, a poultry complex of 520,000 birds near Farmdale, was also highly suspected of carrying A.I.

Both flocks are in the quarantine zone still in effect in the northern part of the county. The 90,000-layer flock was close to other confirmed A.I. flocks.

It was reported that the fate of a 72,000-layer flock officially diagnosed with A.I. last week was undecided. This week, the industry and state department of agriculture decided to make use of the facility to study the spread of A.I. and come up with ways to stop it.

Debok indicated that the department will be looking into vectors that can carry the virus. They include wild fowl (starlings), flies, and the effects of wind currents. The flock will be used approximately 30 days and will undergo a barrage of tests.

Early in the week, industry representatives expressed their frustration at being unable to come up with ways to defeat the virus. Now, more is needed to find out how it is spread and practical ways, even beyond strict biosecurity, that can be employed on the farm to control A.I.

New Dairy Distinction Farms Named

Dairy of Distinction
Dairy Farm Beautification Program

Editor's Note: A special section dedicated to the Dairy of Distinction program will be featured in next week's issue of Lancaster Farming. We will have photographs of the new farms, a list of all the winners since the program began in 1987, information to enter your farm in 1998, and messages from our advertisers.

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

State College (Centre Co.) - Everyone traveling in Pennsylvania, both residents and non residents, will have beautiful dairy farms to observe as they drive through our countryside. A special reminder of this fact comes each year as the new Dairy of Distinction award winners are announced. This year 26 new dairy farms have been added to the 633 farms that received the recognition since the program began in Pennsylvania in 1987.

The Northeast Dairy Farm Beautification program sponsors these awards to recognize those dairy farmers who pay particular attention to the appearance of their land and buildings. Most people who drive by the farm don't realize that in addition to a lot of work to produce milk, it also takes a lot of effort to keep the farmstead looking good too. But whenever a consumer sees a nice looking dairy farm, the association with good wholesome milk is easy. And milk gets good publicity.

Russ Rooks, president of the Pennsylvania program said that dairymen want the sign at their farm to provide advertising for milk. Others use the designation to help find good employees for the farm.

Created in 1983, the Dairy of Distinction Program, is designed to highlight those farms that help to create a positive image for milk.

NY Phil Frozen Eggs

JULY 11, 1997

Prices were higher for whole egg, and unchanged on the balance of products. The market tone was steady to firm. Demand was light. Floor stocks were adequate. Shell egg supplies were mixed from tight to adequate. Liquid and frozen eggs (ingredients included) processed under federal inspection in the Eastern region for the week ending July 5, 1997 were 22% less than the previous week, and 5% less than the same week last year.

Delmarva Broiler

JULY 16, 1997

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was light and unaggressive. The bulk of activity was centered around standing commitments. Seller offerings were readily available and slow to clear. Live supplies were generally moderate; weights were in a full range of light to heavy, but were trending lighter. Processing schedules were moderate to heavy. Less than truckiot asking prices were unchanged at 64 to 78 cents. Trade sentiment was barely steady to weak. Boneless skinless breasts were in excess. Supplies of bone-in breasts were in fairly good balance. Leg quarters and wings were at least adequate for current inquiry.

National Egg Market

JULY 16, 1997

Prices were unchanged to higher in the Midwest and on the East Coast; elsewhere prices were unchanged. The market tone was steady to firm. Demand was mixed, and was mostly moderate to good. Supplies were adequate to short for larger sizes and adequate to ample for mediums and smalls. Breaking stock supplies were tight to adequate for the mixed demand, and prices were unchanged to higher. Light type hen offerings remained at least adequate for full processing schedules.

National Grain Market

ST. JOSEPH, MO
JULY 16, 1997

Sharply lower grain and soybean bids today. Corn is in that period when a maybe rain has everyone seeking shelter. Other commodities followed suit with cover taking on the Boards. Wheat 4 to 7 cents lower. Corn 6 to 7 cents lower. Sorghum 9 to 11 cents lower. Soybeans 30-35 cents lower. Winter wheat harvest is about a done deal, especially hard red winter wheat. Very good yields and quality. Many places over 60 bushel per acre and over 60 test weights. Look for larger numbers before the production ledger is closed. Prices really took a beating this harvest season. However, producers compare 3.40 wheat at 60 per acre and 38 per bushel per acre with 5.40 per bushel, and they end up with about the same bottom line. Low prices and more wheat put in storage this year. Where are the export orders? Meager announcement orders this week and last week. A sprinkling of corn export announcements this week was dried out by a few sprinkles of rain in the forecast. Showers moved across the southern part of the Eastern Cornbelt yesterday. The Western Cornbelt and northern part of the Eastern Cornbelt needs some moisture to put the finishing touches on a record corn crop. Many many acres of corn now in the tasseling and pollination stage. Rains and cooler weather the next several days would be beneficial, but not crucial. A fairly good crop is already guaranteed. Elevators have not had to change their new crop basis for the past several months. Near ideal new crop weather conditions and lower futures brought quotes in line. The opposite of a year ago. Two markets for soybeans, old and new crop. Crushers caught in between and fighting to keep low inventories of beans, meal and oil, but yet keep customers, stay open for the rest of the Summer and not lose money. Soybean meal prices very erratic from day to day. Currently several large operations closed, running short hours or doing usual seasonal maintenance and repairs. This is also the time of the year when producers and country elevators start cleaning out their holding bins and getting ready for Fall harvest. The Old Farmer's Almanac This Week With Almanac

JULY 21-27, 1997

PIONEER DAY (UTAH), JULY 24.

IT TAKES A VILLAGE . . . ?

July is National Purposeful Parenting Month in America, designed to encourage greater parental effectiveness and awareness. Find a copy of The Hundred Languages of Children (Edwards, Gandini, and Forman, eds.), about the Reggio Emilia approach to early childhood education. These parent-initiated schools began in Italy, a week after World War II. In its December 2, 1991, issue, Newsweek listed them among the ten best schools in the world. An integral aspect of the Reggio Emilia approach is the close interaction between children, parents, teachers, and the community.

Education must have an end in view, for it is not an end in itself.

– Sybil Marshall

TIP OF THE WEEK

☞ Fill a basket with art supplies and let the kids work while you're getting supper ready.

GREEK DEVILED EGGS

6 hard-boiled eggs
1/3 cup mayonnaise
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup crumbled feta cheese
2 tablespoons chopped black olives
1 teaspoon snipped fresh mint

Peel the eggs and cut in half lengthwise. Remove the yolks and mash them with the mayonnaise and pepper. Stir in the feta, olives, and mint. Spoon the filling back into the 12 whites. Refrigerate, covered, until ready to serve.

Makes 12 halves.

The Old Farmer's Weather Proverbs

When the bushes are full of berries, a hard winter is on the way.

Spiders in motion indicate rain.

Bees stay home before a rain.

A HEALTHY START IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.
Get your wheat off to a healthy start with the superior protection of Dividend®/Apron XL™ seed treatment that provides:
• Broad spectrum control of seed- and soil-borne diseases, including Pythium.
• Allows wheat to reach its maximum yield potential.
• Less irritating to skin and eyes than other seed treatments.
• Safe to wheat seedlings. Will not slow down germination and emergence under no-till and late planting.
Try a program approach with Dividend/Apron XL seed treatment and Tilt® foliar for the highest yield. Ask your seedsman for Dividend/Apron XL.

Is your business big enough?

Bigger isn't always better, in farming or in any other business. But there are times when it makes sense to enlarge, remodel or update.

If you need several million dollars for your farm expansion, The Ephrata National Bank is probably not your bank. And that is fine with us. Our ag lending policies have always been geared to the small to medium sized operator. In over 100 years of serving consumers, famers and other businesses in our communities, we have found that well-planned, sensible growth is always better than growth for the sake of growth.

OPINION

Response To FFA Fore Gratifying

An event that has been growing from year to year is the Fore FFA Golf Tournament benefit for the Pennsylvania FFA Foundation. This year the number of supporters grew so much that one golf course could not handle all the sponsors who wanted to play. So 221 golfers spent last Monday having fun and raising money for the FFA youth.

Many organizations, both community and agribusinesses, contributed a lot of time, materials, and money to the project. Of course, Hoss's Steak and Sea House Restaurants have been sponsoring the event for the last five years with lunch and a full course steak dinner.

Cost to play was $85.00 per person. And the evening auction of donated items raised $8,000 for a total to $25,000 to the organization.

We congratulate all the donors and contributors who made this event possible. The cause is a good one. The benefits to our ag youth is obvious. And the response is gratifying.

To Vaccinate for Rabies

There has been an increase in the number of rabies cases in Pennsylvania. In York County alone at least two young children have been bitten by animals believed to have rabies and are taking the rabies shots. We are just beginning the peak rabies season of July, August and September. All dogs, household cats and pets older than three months old should be vaccinate against the virus. Also, we recommend all horse owners to have their horses and ponies vaccinated for rabies. Consult your veterinarian for a vaccination program for your pets and other animals. Never approach or touch a raccoon or other wild animal, especially if it is acting unusually aggressive or affectionate. An infected animal may lose its fear of humans and seem friendly. If you are bitten or come into contact with an animal that may be rabid, wash the wound immediately and contact a doctor and animal control officials. Do not take rabies lightly. It is deadly to humans.

To Understand Heat Stress in Corn

The recent hot, dry weather has caused many corn leaves to curl. When leaves curl, the amount of surface area for transpiration is reduced and the amount of water lost from leaves is reduced. This helps the corn plant survive longer under hot, dry conditions. Leaf curling may also be a signal of soil compaction. When you see spots with leaves curling before the rest of the field, you should check to see if there is restricted root growth resulting from soil compaction. This could be useful information to know before planting next year's crop. Leaf curling could also be a result of lower water holding capacity of the soil due to coarse soil texture or shallow soil profile.

To Estimate Corn Yield Loss

I have received several phone calls from the media this week asking how much yield is lost when corn is drought stressed. This depends on the duration of the drought stress and the growth stage of the corn. Drought stress that occurs during the two weeks prior and following pollination will cause the largest declines in corn yields. Corn that is drought stressed at about the 10 leaf stage may lose one to two per cent of yield per day. Severe drought stress during silking may result in 5 to 10 per cent yield loss per day. Severe drought stress is defined as corn leaves curling for 15 to 18 hours per day. Slight curling of corn leaves during the heat of the afternoon will not result in major yield losses.

THE ADVOCATE

July 20, 1997

Background Scripture:
Hebrews 4:14 through 5:10;7
Devotional Reading:
Hebrews 7:20-28

If you knew that you were about to appear before the throne of God and could appoint someone to act as your intermediary or advocate, what kind of person would you choose?

The popular choice in our day would probably be the meanest, toughest lawyer we could find. Someone else might choose a government official with "lots of connections." But I don't think either of those types would do very much for me before the Lord.

What I would choose for myself would be the kind of person described in Hebrews 4:14 to 5:10. "Since then we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession" (4:14). No one in God's whole creation stands as high as he does; there would be no one else with, as we put it today, "so much clout" in our favor.

The problem with this passage is that the concept of a "great high priesthood" is essentially alien to us and our times. The Levitical priesthood ended almost 2,000 years ago. The concept of sacrificing animals for our sins is today repugnant to us.

OUR ADVOCATE

Perhaps the passage in Hebrews would connect with us more clearly if we think of Jesus as our "mediator" or "advocate." The Apostle John himself spoke of Jesus in this manner: "...if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous..." (1 Jn. 2:1). In the days when the New Testament was written the Greek word we translate as "advocate" meant "one who pleads for us" and was applied to anyone who took the side of another in a lawsuit or trial. One scholar says it meant "the help of anyone who 'lends his presence' to his friend."

While I personally have experienced almost nothing of the kind of priesthood of which Hebrews is speaking, I have known some people who have figuratively "gone to bat for me." These are people who have stood with me in a time of trial, just as today's lawyer stands with his client in a court of law. I can relate to one who will act as my mediator or advocate before the throne of God.

There is a German word that I have often used when speaking of Jesus Christ as our "great high priest." The word is stellvertreter (STELL-fur-TRAITOR), literally "one who stands in the place of someone else." Haven't most of us experienced at some time a person — parent or friend — who has been our stellvertreter, someone who has stood, not just with us, but in a sense before us, "taking the heat" that was rightly ours?

INTERCESSOR

Jesus is uniquely qualified to be our advocate. Even "In the days of his flesh, Jesus offered up prayers and supplications with loud cries and tears." He was and still is our intercessor, one who "pleads" for us in our weaknesses and ignorance. His whole life was one of being there for others.

We can be confident knowing that he cares deeply about each of us.

Besides the fact that we believe Jesus Christ was "called by God" and thus bears his authority, that which makes him so appealing for us as an advocate or "great high priest" is our realization that he has known the limitations of our humanity. "For we have not a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are..." (4:15). We know that, though he is from God, he is also one of us.

In a criminal case one may hire a lawyer or be assigned one, but Jesus comes to us, taking our case even before we ask him. It is thus that we can "with confidence draw near to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need" (4:16).

August 1 Soybean Contest Deadline Approaches

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — Pennsylvania soybean growers have just until August 1 to enter the 1997 Soybean Yield Contest and become eligible for several new prizes — including a trip to California — said officials of the Pennsylvania Soybean Board (PASB) recently.

"Thanks to grower feedback and new sponsors, we expect this to be the best soybean yield contest ever," said PASB chairman Daryl Alger of Lebanon. "We've really tried to make it a contest growers will enjoy."

Alger noted that the contest has been held for several years, but with lower participation than desired. This year, he added, the Board worked hard to develop a more enticing contest. With additional sponsorship and beefed-up prizes, the Board now hopes for a record number of grower entries in 1997.

First prize this year is round-trip airfare and lodging for two for the 1998 Commodity Classic, held in February in Long Beach, California. Second prize is a complete get-away weekend at Hershey Park and Hotel, and third prize is $250 cash.

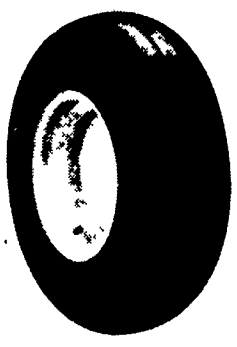
"The yield contest actually benefits all soybean growers, and not just because of the great prizes," explained PASB member Mike Gerhardt of Ephrata with a laugh. "The results are valuable for all of us, because the contest highlights practices which produce maximum economic yields, and encourages the production of high-quality soybeans."

The 1997 Soybean Yield Contest is sponsored by PASB, Monsanto, American Cyanamid, Dekalb Genetics, DuPont, Novartis, Pioneer Hybrids, Seedway, Chemgro Seeds, FMC Corp/APG, C.B. Hoober, Hoffman Seeds, Landis Brothers and Terra.

For more information, please call John Yotum, PASB member and Penn State senior research associate, at (717) 653-4728 today. For more information about the Pennsylvania Soybean Board — a non-profit grower directed organization — please call (609) 241-1241.

NO TIME

FOR DOWNTIME?



Then take a good look at your front tractor tires, and wagon and implement tires. Even though they're small and inexpensive, they can bring your operation to a screeching halt when they need to be replaced. Save time and money by replacing them now with long-wearing Firestone farm tires.

BUCK MOTORSPORTS PARK 10 miles S. of Lancaster on Rt. 272

SEE YOU AT THE BUCK!

Out standing in your field.

The Agri-specialists from Farmers First aren't a bunch of deskbound bankers waiting around for the phone to ring. We get involved with you. Right where you live and work. We lend the money farmers need to keep growing. And, we can help your business in a lot of other ways, too.
We talk the talk. And we walk the walk.
(wherever that might lead us)

Chesapeake Bay Foundation Supports Statewide Standards For Hog Farms

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Chesapeake Bay Foundation (CBF) strongly and enthusiastically supports statements made recently by Senator Robert C. Jubelirer calling for comprehensive, statewide standards for corporate hog farming operations according to a news release Thursday.

In addition, CBF believes that a moratorium on new, large animal operations in Pennsylvania is a reasonable and essential interim measure until the statewide standards that Jubelirer called for are in place. CBF believes these standards should include ground and surface water monitoring, siting criteria, regular inspections at the facilities, assurance of adequate land for manure application, and manure storage standards that protect water quality and public health.

"Pennsylvania is totally unprepared for an influx of these large animal operations. Farming operations of this magnitude are not adequately covered by current and pending environmental protection programs," said Lamonte Garber, Agricultural Policy Specialist for CBF. "These corporate operations not only pose a threat to water quality, but also threaten the viability of small and mid-sized livestock farms," said Garber.

"Goals established by EPA and the Chesapeake Bay states to stem the flow of nutrients to the Bay by the year 2000 are already in jeopardy and are further threatened by an increase in factory farming operations," said Jolene E. Chinchilli, PA Executive Director for CBF.

"We commend Senator Jubelirer for responding to citizens' concerns about corporate farms in Pennsylvania. We encourage the inclusion of locally affected citizens, family farm and sustainable agriculture interests, and environmental and public health interests in any statewide process to address this important issue," said Chinchilli.

Polish 4-H Exchange To Hold Car Wash

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — On July 15, nine 4-H members from Poland arrived in Lancaster County for a three-week stay. During this time, the visitors will participate in field trips and 4-H activities with their 4-H host families.

Both Lancaster and Poland 4-H'ers will hold a car wash on August 1, from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Tanglewood Service Center, located one mile south of the Buck, just before Tanglewood Citgo. Proceeds from the carwash will help support the Polish/USA 4-H Exchange program.

New Holland Summer Tour And Picnic Held

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) - The Novartis and FMC chemical companies sponsored their annual summer tour and picnic on Tuesday in conjunction with the Eastern Lancaster Co. School District adult farmer program and the County extension service. Headquartered at the community park, the group spent the morning at test plots on the farms of Paul Kurtz and Eugene Martin.

Tara Soper, Novartis, said the event is educational in nature to help farmers, dealers, applicators, and extension agents to explore current problems and how new chemistry and practices are working in the field. She said in dry weather such as we are now experiencing, weeds are more of a problem because they become "hardened off" with more of a waxy coating and thus don't absorb the control as well. But at the same time, when the corn or soybeans are not growing, there are not as many new weeds coming along either.

Steve Fisher, FMC, said the test plots showed both current products and experimental products working in the field. Fisher said the pressure on alfalfa from leaf hopper is really strong right now. The threshold is two hoppers in 10 sweeps, but fields are yielding 10 to 12 hoppers in a single sweep. The pressure is critical because the alfalfa is not growing, but the insects are doing well.

Jeff Stoltzfus, adult and young farmer program, said some corn is starting to tassle, and this four week period is critical. Stoltzfus said he will lose several percent in corn yield each day if it doesn't rain. This week and next week are especially critical. He believes we can have an average yield if we get rain soon. But the weather patterns at the beginning of the week did not seem to promise much rain.

Stoltzfus reported good hay has been made, and wheat harvest bushels and grain weight are good. If you don't have good weed control, however, the weeds are drinking the water the crop should have and you can see these weed spots from the road in the form of stunted and spiked corn.

Specifically, the tour group was able to evaluate burcumber control options in both corn and soybeans; participate in how to control tough weeds with tillage and herbicide workshops; view new chemistry in corn and soybeans; and see test plots of blue mold control in tobacco.

Lunch was served at noon. Pesticide license credits were available. About 160 people attended the tour and picnic.

A large group of farmers, dealers, applicators, and extension agents attended the Novartis and FMC New Holland Summer Tour and Picnic on Tuesday.

Farmers Wonder: What Will It Take To Pass Bottle Bill?

Second In A Series

Editor's Note: It's clear that farmers are frustrated and angry about the amount of trash they find in the fields and what that trash has done to their livelihoods. Part two of the series will look at the proposed Bottle Bill legislation and what it would entail to farmers and consumers.

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

MYERSTOWN (Lebanon Co.) — George Moyer has made a "collection" of his own headaches.

His "headaches" are what he found alongside road frontage, in his fields. They include Pepsi and Mountain Dew bottles.

Some of the collection is unique. A friend gave him a sarsaparilla bottle made in Mexico, marketed in Sioux City, Calif., imprinted in clear letters: 5 cent deposit, VT-IA.

Moyer, who helps manage Mor-Dale Farms in Myerstown, bought a sixpack of Mountain Dew in Iowa that cost him about 35 cents a can — with a 5-cent deposit clearly marked. An iced tea bottle in Arizona is imprinted with a 5-cent deposit in Massachusetts.

One bottle Moyer obtained from a friend included a 10-cent deposit by 83 percent.

According to figures from the Container Recycling Institute, bottle bill states recycle more than twice as much glass, per capita, as non-bottle bill states. The states that don't have the bill, such as Pennsylvania, continue to landfill a great deal of glass and aluminum — knowing there is only so much land available.

New York State has operated successful redemption centers for years. Moyer, who has traveled to see these centers, says that store owners and consumers are happy with the system.

Moyer serves on the one of the committees in the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau to ensure the passage of the bill. Now, the bureau is gearing up to get signatures to support H.B. 922.

More legislators will be petitioned until the bill is passed.

Recently, 500 signatures were gathered from schools in the Elizabethtown and Hummelstown districts, all in favor of a bill.

Consumers have already voted in favor of a bill. Moyer pointed to a survey conducted in the winter of 1985 by Sen. David J. Brightbill (R-48th). More than 7,000 individuals responded to a survey mailed in the winter of 1985 from Brightram — but many townships, such as Bethel, where Moyer lives, have less than 5,000 and so don't have a program.

And there are many townships and boroughs in the state with farms just like Moyer.

"Our patience has run out," said Guy F. Donaldson, Pennsylvania Farm Bureau (PFB) president, at a news conference at the Ronald Kopp Farm in Middletown last April. "Bottles and cans are still being dumped along the roads, in our fields and front yards, and on public lands."

The PFB wants at least a five-cent deposit placed on bottles and cans as an incentive to recycle instead of throwing them along the roadside. Incidentally, a news conference was held at the Kopp Farm more than 13 years ago to show the need for a mandatory deposit on bottles and cans. In April, Donaldson and Kopp walked along some of the road frontage of the Kopp Farm, picking up bottles, cans, and other trash that motorists dumped from their vehicles.

Two years ago, in July 1995, Lancaster Farming published a series entitled "Vanishing Acres," which looked at the challenges farmers faced when dealing with urban neighbors. Lancaster Farming visited the farm of dairyman John Valkovec, Klecknersville, who farms more than 500 acres — much near highly developed land.

Valkovec remembered mowing some alfalfa near a development where residents decided to use the field as a golfball driving range. In all, the dairyman had to pick up 100 balls from the field.

But for Valkovec, the golf balls aren't nearly as frustrating as the empty beer cans.

"When you're chopping silage," he said, "before you see the cans, they're on the load and you have to throw the load away."

Like many farmers, he's had to pick up bottles and cans strewn about in his fields.

Opponents of the proposed Bottle Bill have said that mandatory township recycling laws have done much to stem the flow of trash into farmers' fields. But "the recycling law is not working to solve the problems we have out here in the country," said Ronald Kopp of Middletown. In Londonderry Township, home to about 2,500 residents, there is no mandatory recycling law. However, townships bordering Londonderry, including Derry and Swatara and Lower Swatara, have recycling laws.

Kopp said there must be some kind of financial incentive for people to recycle the cans and bottles. Now, however, people see no value in the trash and simply toss it out the window. People don't have the incentive to keep the bottles and cans they buy, sometimes before they come home from work, for recycling.

Many people won't make that extra effort to put that trash in the recycling bin, insisted Kopp. A five-cent deposit on bottles and cans would change that.

"Even if we had a 5-cent deposit return on containers, and someone still chose to throw that can or bottle or whatever out into the roadside, there wold be people out there that could benefit by picking up the cans, because they would have a nickel every time they picked something up," he said.

Before a trash pickup and news conference at his farm in April, Kopp said he and his wife Connie

Oregon passed the state's Beverage Container Act (also called the Oregon Bottle Bill) in 1971.

Within two years of the bill's implementation, litter from beverage containers had dropped by 83 percent.

in Michigan.

"I never met anybody who opposes a bottle bill," said Moyer.

All those states have mandatory deposit legislation.

Pennsylvania, for whatever reason, doesn't.

Actually, Moyer knows why Pennsylvania doesn't have a Bottle Bill. Pressure from Bottle Association lobbyists has been fierce, heated, and relentless at the state assembly.

The reason? The bottlers insist it would cost too much money in helping to set up collection sites and paying for the returned material, according to Moyer. Recyclers claim a tight return on their investment, and recycling glass is still costly.

But if other states have mandatory deposits, why doesn't Pennsylvania?

On the results of the winter survey, question number 3 asked: "Would you support a 'bottle bill' that would require a five-cent deposit on all beverage containers sold in Pennsylvania?" Of the respondents, 68.5 percent voted "yes" to the question, and only 29.1 percent voted no.

In the summer survey, 52.1 percent of the responded voted for a five-cent deposit on cans and bottles. Almost 80 percent of the respondents indicated that a forced deposit of that type would motivate them to return used containers.

In the summer survey, on question 4, "Do the problems created for farmers by littered cans and bottles cause you to look at litter legislation more favorably?," 81 percent of the respondents indicated yes. On question 6, "Do you feel the ultimate social gain of a litter-free environment outweighs the costs to taxpayers in one form or another involved in either type of legislation?", 73.5 percent noted yes.

Oregon passed the state's Beverage Container Act (also called the Oregon Bottle Bill) in 1971. Actually, the bill was written up in 1969. Oregon instituted the nation's first statewide program to begin recycling in 1984. Other states have modeled their programs on Oregon's bill, which proponents claim has substantially reduced litter in the state.

According to Oregon's Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ), within two years of the bill's implementation, litter from beverage containers had dropped

If so many people are voting in favor of the bill, why hasn't it passed?

According to Moyer, bottlers won a concession years ago with the passage of mandatory community recycling programs. However, communities with more than 5,000 people are part of the progspent about an hour and a half picking up bottles and cans strewn about on his farm, using a two-wheel trailer hooked to a four-wheel vehicle. The trash was collected into the small wagon. If a five-cent deposit existed, someone could collect enough nickels from deposits on the trash "to go to the movies or something.

"Kids could pick up trash along the road at five cents a can and have a little spending change for the weekend," said Kopp.

"Until we get some monetary reward for not littering, all the mandatory recycling we have is not going to be effective."

Kopp blames the lack of passage of the Bottle Bill by pressure from "large-manufacturer lobbying groups that are not taking responsibility for the problems we have out here in the country.

"Until this society realizes they are responsible for our future environment, this stuff is only going to fill up landfills."

At the conference, Kopp reminded those who are concerned with the future of farming about the "significant financial hardship" that this trash causes on the farm. Since the 1980s, when the first such press conference was held at the farm, "we still have the same trash stream out here, we still have the same problems with cut tires and shredded cans and bottles and so on."

PFB's Guy Donaldson told those at the conference, "We were advised by legislators and some organizations opposing this approach to be patient, because the state recycling law would correct the problems in the rural areas. This law is extremely effective in the urban areas. However, it has absolutely no benefits for rural areas."

Donaldson told the media that the farm group supported the 1988 Municipal Waste Planning, Recycling and Waste Reduction Act which started curbside recycling in rural areas.

In April, PFB hosted state legislators at a banquet at the Ramada Inn on Market Square in Harrisburg. Earlier, the individual farmers carried bottles of root beer to their legislators. They explained the bottles had been purchased here at a local supermarket. The bottles have a deposit value in nine other states.

Donaldson said PFB is urging members of the state General Assembly to approve H.B. 922, introduced by Rep. Arthur Hershey (R-13th) with 53 co-sponsors.

The legislation would place at least a five-cent deposit on bottles and cans, making it worth the effort to recycle beverage containers instead of dumping them along the highway.

Donaldson said that 13 years and three months is long enough to wait for an action plan to clean up the bottles and cans being dumped

The bill is in the House State Government Committee, chaired by Rep. Paul Clymer, according to a PFB release. It was released to the committee on March 18 this year.

The bill clearly outlines provisions of the deposit, including administration of the law and enforcement.

But its passage is still uncertain. Yet that doesn't stop producers from putting on the pressure. More than 400 farmers were in Harrisburg in mid-April visiting legislators, seeking support for the Bottle Bill and other legislation affecting rural residents.

Mandatory township recycling may be well in its place, Kopp noted, "but here in rural Pennsylvania it's not doing the job.

"The public has to take responsibility for throwing away the trash. And until we get some financial incentive for them to do that, I don't think it'll ever happen."

Said George Moyer of Myerstown, "We are now going to get something done, even if we have to clean house in Harrisburg."

Editor's Note: In the last part of the series, opponents of the Bottle Bill provide their side of the story. Either way, farmers can now have their voices heard. Next week, Lancaster Farming will print a petition to be filled out and returned to the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau to convince legislators of the need for a Pennsylvania Bottle Bill.

'Our patience has run out.'

'The public has to take responsibility for throwing away the trash. And until we get some financial incentive for them to do that, I don't think it'll ever happen.'

'Kids could pick up trash along the road at five cents a can and have a little spending change for the weekend.'

"I never met anybody who opposes a bottle bill," said Moyer, right. On a day in June, Moyer asked Tim Lynch of GTE if Pennsylvania should have a bottle bill. The answer: yes.

67 Qualify For States At Southeast District Dairy Show

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

NORTH CORNWALL (Lebanon Co.) — Sixty-seven dairy cattle representing the five major dairy breeds qualified for state competition during the Southeast 4-H/FFA District Dairy Show, Tuesday at the Lebanon Area Fairgrounds.

That number of cattle represents slightly more than half of the entries in the district show — the first of 12 qualifying shows statewide scheduled to be held through the end of August.

Broken down according to breed, 18 Ayrshires, 13 Brown Swiss, four Guernsey, 24 Holsteins, and eight Jerseys qualified Tuesday to advance to the state youth dairy show set to be held at the state Farm Show Complex on Sept. 22, during the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show week (Sept. 22-25).

The Southeast District Show is sort of a misleading name, because there is to be another Southeast District Show at the Schuylkill County Fairgrounds on August 22.

The state youth dairy qualifying shows used to be separated according to youth organization — FFA and 4-H. The first Southeast District show used to be restricted to FFA members, while the second was restricted to 4-H members.

Statewide, there were six district shows for 4-H and six for FFA, with restrictions on where showing could be done.

However, with dairy farm numbers down, and spread out, for years there has been a reduction in the number of FFA and 4-H dairy members across the state.

As opportunities to attend shows diminished, it was decided that a change needed to be made in order to maximize the opportunities for youth to participate.

In addition, the final state show didn't acknowledge any distinction between 4-H and FFA. Last year, for the first time, new rules came into effect which now allow any 4-H or FFA dairy youth to enter and compete in any of the 12 district qualifing shows across the state.

Constant in the state's youth dairy showing program is the fact that judges of the shows not only place animals, but select those animals that they feel are of strong enough quality to compete at the state show.

The awarding of a blue ribbon, not the placing of the animal in the show, determines the eligibility for state competition. For that reason, the show placing results do not of themselves indicate eligibility for the state show.

Tuesday's Holstein judge was Scott Cooper, a Holstein breeder from York County, while the judge for the colored breeds was Thomas Arrowsmith, a Jersey breeder from Lancaster County.

Holstein

In the Holstein breed, Timothy Vail of Lebanon showed the senior and grand champion and the reserve senior and reserve grand champion.

His grand champion, also named best bred and owned, was a senior 3-year-old, Dalee-Bred Counselor Posie. His reserve grand champion was an aged cow, C Pineriver Jethro Gretta.

The reserve junior champion Holstein was a winter (intermediate) calf, Ju-Vindale Marksman Hannah, owned by Amy Moyer, of Womelsdorf.

Ayrshire

In the Ayrshire show, the senior and grand champion, as well as the best bred and owned animal was a junior 3-year-old, Dreamnol Trident's Minerva, owned by Craig Nolan, of Cochranville.

Craig's younger sister Rebecca showed the reserve senior and reserve grand champion, also a junior 3-year-old, S&M Ayr IRS Opal.

The reserve junior champion Ayrshire was a summer yearling, Maulfair-Acres Trident Carmel, bred and owned by Daryl Maulfair, of Jonestown.

Brown Swiss

Alicia Mase, of Lebanon, showed both grand and reserve grand champion Brown Swiss, both of which are bred and owned animals.

Her junior 2-year-old, Meadow Hill Patrick Alana was named

portions of New York and Maryland," SRBC Executive Director Paul Swartz said. "We are concerned that below-normal flows of the Susquehanna River and many of its tributaries could trigger mandatory restrictions."

The SRBC is made up of representatives of New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and the federal government. It's mission is to manage the water resources of the Susquehanna River basin.

The state monitors five parameters for drought — precipitation, stream flows, groundwater levels, reservoir levels and soil moisture. Precipitation is below normal in most counties in the eastern two thirds of the state, with deficits running as much as seven inches below normal since January. Groundwater levels in the Susquehanna River basin are generally below normal and streamflows are almost half of normal. Soil moisture is also low, and while most reservoirs are at normal levels, they are beginning to drop.

"Our concern is that the indicators across the board are on the way down," Seif said. "We can't control the weather. The only variable in this equation we can control is the amount of water we use and we're asking Pennysylvanians to do just that."

"This is a critical time for several crops that are very important to Pennsylvania agriculture, including corn and alfalfa hay," Agriculture Secretary Samuel E. Hayes Jr. said. "If conditions continue to deteriorate, there will be serious economic consequences."

The Department of General Services has stopped all unnecessary water use on state property in the greater Harrisburg area, including outside sprinklers and fountains.

The latest drought information including water conservation tips, drought maps and current conditions is available on DEP's website at http://www.dep.state.pa.us (choose Drought Information Center).

Fulton County Agribusiness Breakfast

McCONNELLSBURG (Fulton Co.) — The Fulton County Extension Office and the Fulton County Conservation District will be holding an agribusiness breakfast on Tuesday, Aug. 5, from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. at the American Legion Post 561 in McConnellsburg.

This month, Dr. John Comerford, extension livestock specialist at Penn State, will discuss the usage and safety of growth hormones in livestock production.

The monthly agribusiness breakfast will start promptly at 8 a.m. and will adjourn at 9 a.m. Breakfast will cost $4.25 per person and will include scrambled eggs, bacon, sausage, toast, coffee, milk, and orange juice.

In order to get an accurate meal count for this month's meeting we request that you contact the Fulton County Extension Office at (717) 485-4111 by July 31 to reserve your place.

Valley with a score of 62 was the team from Saul Ewing, based in Harrisburg and Philadelphia. They consisted of Steve Aichele, Mike Finio, Larry Hirsh, and Charlie Zall.

Second place at Hawk Valley was the team made up of Rus Rental Uniform, including Roy Reeve and Barry Zepp, with a score of 62.

Hawk Valley third place team, scoring 64, consisted of Phil Johnson, Darren Johnston, Rob Rayhal, and Jack Bowers.

Finishing in first place at Fox Chase with a score of 59, top score of the day, was Scott Gold, John Coldiron, Dave Huston, and Steve Moran.

Second place at Fox Chase was the team from Delaware Valley College with a score of 60. Team members included Doug Linde, Paul Kutawski, Neil Vincent, and Richard Vincent.

Other contests included the hole-in-one event, longest drive, and putting contest.

After the shotgun scramble "best ball" tournament was over, a dinner/auction was held where lots of donated items went for sale. There were 254 bidders. The auction raised more than $8,000 and, including the tournament, close to $25,000 was raised for state FFA, according to Hoffman.

Auctioneers were Glenn Wenger, Wenger's Farm Machinery, and Harry Bachman.

Items at the auction varied immensely. There were wooden and steel lawn furniture and decorative assembles, a cedar chest, a Nittany Lion football with a Joe Paterno signature, varied golf paraphernalia donated by various organizations, paintings, prints, gardening tools, home crafts, toys, and gift certificates to a range of activities and retail stores.

State FFA officers were present to help auction the items.

Many items were made by regional FFA chapters. Several included birdhouses and a tool box donated by Manheim FFA.

A wishing well constructed by Solanco FFA went for $200. A cedar chest donated by the West Perry FFA went for $240. Four miniature chests — two made of cherry, two of oak, and all with cedar bottoms, constructed by the Hans Herr FFA — went for $45 each to different buyers. A quilt at the auction went for $950.

Vegetable Field Tour

LANDISVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — The 1997 Pennsylvania Vegetable Field Tour is planned for Tuesday, July 29. The tour is being sponsored by the Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers Association (PVGA).

The tour to Lancaster, Lebanon, and Dauphin counties features visits to two farms and roadside markets, a vegetable processing plant, variety trial gardens and a research center.

The itinerary is as follows:

8 a.m. — Registration at the Penn State Southeast Research and Extension Center in Landisville.

8:30 a.m. - Buses depart Landisville Center.

9 a.m. — Arrive at the Seedway Trial Grounds at the Milton Hershey School in Hershey.

10:45 a.m. - Arrive at the Risser-Marvel Roadside Market and farm in Campbelltown.

11:45 p.m. - Arrive at Frey's Farm Market and farm in Lebanon. A box lunch will be served here.

2:15 p.m. — Arrive at Funks Farm Market in Millersville.

3:30 p.m. — Return to the Southeast Research and Extension Center in Landisville to tour vegetable research and demonstration plots and equipment demonstrations.

4:30 p.m. Depart for home.

Registration, which will cover the cost of the charter bus, box lunch and refreshments, will be $25 per person for PVGA members and $30 for nonmembers. Reservations made after July 22 will have a $5 late fee added.

If you are interested in attending this tour, call PVGA at (717) 473-8468 (day or evening) to preregister.

Following is a detailed description of the five stops on the tour:

• Seedway Trial Grounds, Hershey. The Trial Grounds of Seedway, formerly Agway Seeds, have been located on the Hershey School grounds for the last 15 years. The site houses several greenhouses which are used to start vegetable transplants in the spring for transplanting in the field from April through June. Seedway not only trials their own new vegetable varieties but also their competitors' materials. Many of the common vegetable varieties are planted on the five-acre site throughout the growing season. The trial gardens will have in excess of 400 sweet corn varieties in trial in 1997 and tropical marigolds that can grow as tall as 12 feet which can dramatically reduce nematode populations in a single year.

• Risser-Marvel Roadside Market, Campbelltown. This farm and market has been in the family for the last 70 years. Bob Marvel grows a variety of vegetables for his farm market but has significant acreage in sweet corn and cantaloupes. Marvel sells many types of plastic mulch to the general farm population across the nation and naturally grows many of his vegetables crops on plastic mulch with drip irrigation.

• Frey's Farm Market, Lebanon. Harold Frey began growing vegetables more than 50 years ago and has developed a successful farming operation coupled with an attractive roadside market and greenhouse complex. Frey still dabbles with the flowers in the greenhouse, but his sons Leslie and Dennis run the farming and market operation.

The Freys grow a fair amount of peppers on plastic, early sweet corn on plastic, and cantaloupes. They also have a smaller array of other vegetables to supply their farm market. The relatively large greenhouse is used every spring to start flower and vegetable transplants and produce hanging baskets.

• John Cope's Food Products Inc., Rheems. John Cope Food Products is a food processor that cans and freezes sweet corn, peas, and lima beans. In the '80s, Copes grew several hundred acres of PennFresh ADX sweet corn to produce high sucrose dehydrated flour that was shipped to Japan. Copes currently contracts with growers from many of the Mid-Atlantic states for their raw product which keeps the factory operating 12 months of the year.

• Southeast Extension and Research Center, Landisville. The Southeast Extension and Research Center is one of several research facilities Penn State maintains around the state to enable researchers to conduct research under the same conditions as major production regions of the state.

Call PVGA at (717) 473-8468 with your reservation by July 22. Mail reservations to PVGA at RR 1 Box 392, Northumberland, PA 17657-9723.

New Dairy

Applicants for the award are judged by committees who evaluate the farms' roadside appearance, as well as the cleanliness of the grounds and buildings.

Winners receive official 18x24 "Dairy of Distinction" signs which are mounted at the roadside for all to see. Award-winning farms are also visited annually by the judging committee to ensure that they continue to meet the standards of excellence set by the program.

The 1997 Pennsylvania Dairy of Distinction winners are: District 11: Craig Hayes, Edinboro; Douglas Stanhope, Linesville; and Dennis Rynd, Cochranton.

District 12: Charles Carr, New Alexandria; and Albert Fritz, Valenica.

District 13: Duane Ilgen, Centre Hall.

District 14: Vaughan May, Breezewood; Jerry and Joan Bechtel, Martinsburg; Kurt Walker, Somerset; James Sechler and Bradwin Winters, Somerset; Dennis Brumbaugh, Martinsburg; Mark and Tammy Martin, Berlin; George and David Smith, Martinsburg; Jay and Kirk Hillegass, Berlin; Harry Mosholder, Rockwood; and James and Keith Snyder, Rockwood.

District 15: Roy Coale III., Littlestown.

District 16: Lloyd Zimmerman, Danville.

District 17: Paul G. Robbins, Ulster.

District 18: Joseph Pavelski, Susquehanna.

District 19: Lamar Gockley, Mohnton.

District 20: William and Karen Boyd, Mertztown; Michael Dietrich, Kutztown; Peter Markel, Breinigsville; and Melvin Stoltzfus, Cochranville.

senior and grand champion, while Alicia's 5-year-old cow, Meadow-Hill Jade Alice, was reserve senior and reserve grand champion.

The junior champion and the reserve junior champions of the Brown Swiss show were a pair of Meadow-Hill farm-prefix fall yearling sisters that Alicia bred as well. The junior champion was Meadow-Hill Jade Afton-ET, owned by Alicia's brother Garrett, while the reserve junior champion was Meadow-Hill Jade Aubrie, owned by Alicia's younger brother Anthony.

Both of the junior champs were embryo transfer calves sired by Bridge View Elegant Jade-Et, out of dam Meadow Hill Titan Agatha, one of the farm's show-winning cows.

Guernsey

While the Guernsey show was small, with four calves, they all qualified to go to the state show.

Erin Smith, of Palmyra, showed her Lebanon Valley B Lilly, a winter (intermediate) calf, to win junior champion and grand champion honors.

Thomas Spring, of Quarryville, showed a fall (senior) calf to win the reserve junior champion and reserve grand champion ribbons.

Jersey

In the Jersey show, Robert Petrovich, of Cochranville, showed a 4-year-old cow, Vandenberg Knight Ella, to earn senior and grand champion honors, while his aged cow, Silver Bow Ringer, took reserve senior and reserve grand champion honors.

The junior champion Jersey was a spring (junior) calf, WRF Terror Emma, shown by Patrick Jenkins, of Toughkenamon.

The reserve junior champion was a fall calf, Sonnylee Alf Sarah, bred and owned by Joel Bomgardner, of Lebanon.

The top owner-bred animal among all the colored breeds was Craig Nolan's champion Ayrshire, while Alicia Mase had the second best bred and owned animal, her champion Brown Swiss.

In county group competition, Lebanon County 4-H took first place, followed by Chester County FFA and Chester County 4-H.

In school group competition, Cedar Crest 4-H was first, followed by Octorara FFA, and Elco 4-H.

In a fit-out competition held the prior evening, Alan Hostetter, a Lebanon County Holstein breeder was judge. There were nine contestants, all qualifying for state competition.

Among the 13-year-olds, Daryl Maulfair was champion, while among the 14-year-olds, Erica Shellenberger was first. Trisha Geist was first among the 15-year-olds, while Rob Petrovich was first among the 16- and 17-year-olds.

What Does Program Hold For Maryland?

EDGEWATER, Md. — What is Maryland's new Rural Legacy program and what promise does it hold for the state's agricultural industry?

The program — that part of Gov. Parris Glendening's Smart Growth legislation which is designed to add vigor and funding to Maryland's farmland preservation efforts — will be among the topics of Maryland Agriculture Secretary Lewis Riley in remarks at the annual meeting of the Maryland Grain Producers Association (MGPA).

The meeting is slated for Thursday, July 24, at the Queen Anne's County 4-H Park near Centreville.

The association was founded 20 years ago and boasts a membership of more than 300 representing all phases of the grain industry in the state. The yearly membership meeting traditionally showcases research, educational and market development projects funded with checkoff dollars by the Maryland Grain Producers Utilization Board and includes both a business session and a concluding crab feast and pork and chicken barbecue.

Other speakers at the 1997 meeting will discuss marketing strategies for the coming year and explore ways that farmers can help consumers overcome their apprehensions about the use of crop protection chemicals.

For more information about the meeting or about membership in MGPA, call the association office at (410) 956-5771.

Lebanon Area Fair Celebrates 41st Anniversary As Ag Showcase

NORTH LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — Since 1957, members of 4-H and FFA have used the Lebanon Area Fair as a forum for displaying their many and varied projects.

That tradition continues starting Saturday July 26 as the 1997 Lebanon Area Fair officially kicks off.

Celebrating its 41st year, the Lebanon Area Fair has a well-deserved reputation for providing family oriented educational and entertaining displays and events.

Located two miles south of Lebanon at Rocherty and Cornwall roads, smiles and happy faces are prevelant. There are a wide variety of displays — from farm equipment to home-grown foods — as well as midway rides (expanded this year) and the many, many exhibits of farm animals and fowl.

Entertainment goes on throughout the week and there are also events held in conjunction, though not associated directly, with the fair, such as fireworks and demolition derby.

This year Mike Foster's Night of Thrills Stunt Show, Karaoke competitions, a farmer's market, a wandering banjo man, tractor pulls, karate demonstrations, celebrity cow milking, and many, many other activities and events promise to make the 41st the best yet.

For more specific information, call the fair office at 273-3795.

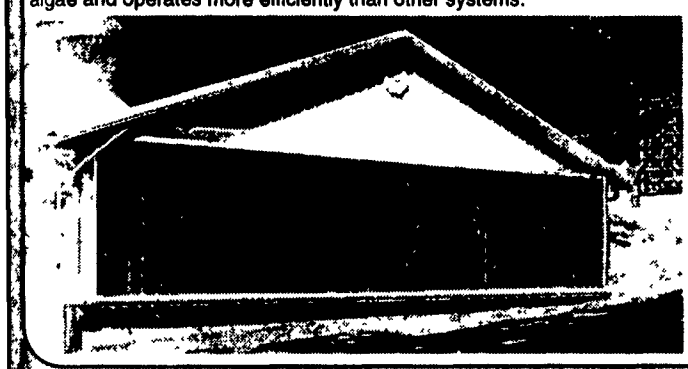
EVAPORATIVE COOLING

AVS KOMFORT KOOLER™

AVS Komfort Kooler™ evaporative cooling systems combined wtih a tunnel ventilation system can lower the temperature of free stall barns as much as 20 degrees depending on ambient temperature and relative humidity conditions. Komfort Koolers™ utilitze the natural cooling effect of evaporation, effectively lowering the temperature of incoming air to increase cow comfort and improve milk production. This self-contained evaporative cooling system eliminates separate holding tanks, reduces algae and operates more efficiently than other systems.



Every Dairy Farmer knows - comfortable cows mean increased milk production.

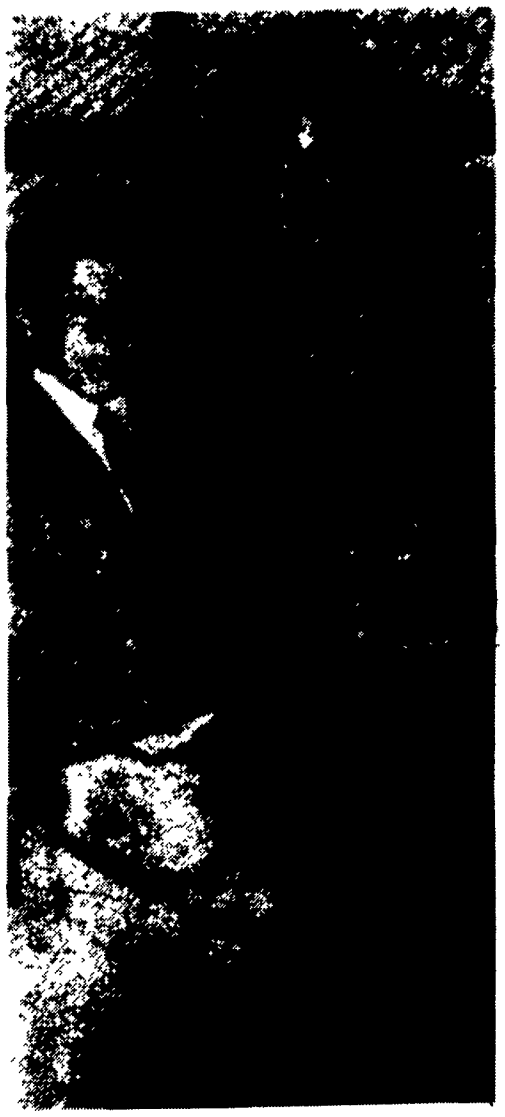
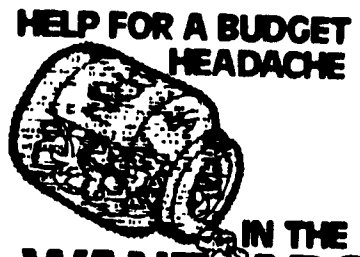
Lebanon Area Fair Celebrates 41st Anniversary As Ag Showcase



Danny VanVleet receives a first place plaque from Anne Leed as champion of the boys' division of the annual sheep lead line competition at the Lebanon Area Fair.

The Lebanon Area Fair is for the entire family and nothing attracts and entertains children as does a play area with farm toys.



Reaching the top is easier if you have the AGCO® ALLIS 7600 tractor pulling you up

Make Your Way Up Your Own Corporate Ladder.

The 89 PTO hp engine has the power to muscle through most any job. This multi-purpose, row-crop tractor has a standard synchronized transmission with 24 forward and 12 reverse speeds. For your convenience, you can choose between the cab or rops with an optional canopy.

- A direct air-cooled diesel engine powers the tractor and delivers maximum strength through the full speed range. So you're able to get more work done using less fuel, doing less shifting and requiring less effort to operate the tractor.
- This also lets you match engine power to ground speeds for more efficient field work.
- The AWD models feature true centerline drive shaft for more efficient power transfer and less maintenance.
- Like always, every AGCO Allis tractor comes with a 4-year/4,000-hour warranty that's backed by your dealer.

To see what the 7600 tractor can do for you, just stop by and see us. You'll be surprised how fast you'll climb.

DAVID BIGELOW
Training Coordinator

ALTOONA (Blair Co.) — On Saturday, July 12, Pennsylvania Dairy Herd Improvement Association Technicians from all parts of the PA DHIA service area were honored for their achievements at the 73rd annual PA DHIA Technicians' Summer Conference.

It all began with a delicious buffet breakfast early Saturday morning at the Ramada Inn in Altoona. After breakfast, all technicians and guests gathered for the presentation of awards.

George Cashell, president of the technicians' association, introduced David Bigelow, training coordinator, who announced the award winners while being assisted by the respective region managers in recognizing technician achievements.

Herb Gilmore
Superior Technician Award

The highlight of the awards program was the presentation of the Herb Gilmore Memorial Superior Technician award. This award was started to honor Herb Gilmore who was an extension dairy specialist at PA DHIA from 1946 to 1980. His job duties included working closely with county agents to increase the accuracy and reliability of records, train technicians, enforce rules and regulations, use records to build educational programs, increase number of cows and herds on test, build leadership and strengthen the board of Directors. The purpose of this award is to honor those technicians who deliver exceptional service to the Pennsylvania DHIA service area dairy farmers, promote good public relations and provide up-to-date records for all their members. The individual receiving this award must be a full-time employee and have a minimum of 20 years of service. The recipient must have previously received the PA DHIA Distinguished Service Award and have qualified for the award of merit for the current year. The award consists of a jacket and a Check for $100.00. Den Amick, director of field operations, presented this award to Gary Davies from Susquehanna County.

Distinguished Service Awards

There were five technicians recognized for the Distinguished Service Awards, with a recipient from each of the five regions in the Pennsylvania DHIA service area. Each year a list of nominees for this award is accumulated. Each candidate must have completed five years of service and qualified for the award of merit for the previous year. One technician is chosen from each region based on the following criteria: Cooperation with county personnel, dairymen, DHIA Personnel, Statistical Performance, Neatness and Appearance. Technicians may only win this award once. It is required that a technician win this award prior to consideration for the Herb Gilmore Memorial Superior Technician Award. The winners each received a jacket and a check for $25.00. The winners of this award are, Region 1, Henry Halstead, Butler County; Region 2, Tammy Furry, Bedford County; Region 3, Bonnie Gee, Tioga County; Region 4, Carol Spatz, Berks County; Region 5, Cheri Bonavita, Susquehanna County.

Rookies Of The Year

The PA DHIA Rookie of the Year award was established to honor new technicians who have shown exceptional aptitude in learning the job of a PA DHIA Technician. These individuals must have worked at least six and no more than 18 months and have demonstrated outstanding cooperation with the state and local DHIA associations in conducting an efficient and accurate testing program. This award consisted of a jacket. There are two categories for this award; one for full-time employees and the other is for part-time employees. This year's awards for full-time employees went to Theresa Shick, Jefferson County; and Susan Lander, Franklin County. The awards for part-time employees went to Becky Silvanic, New York, and William Smith, New Jersey.

Putnam Memorial Award

The Putnam Memorial Award was initiated in 1983 in honor of Dexter N. Putnam for his contributions to PA DHIA. Mr. Putnam was an extension dairyman from 1957 until his retirement in 1982. Dexter's dairy extension responsibilities included working with DHIA technicians to improve their accuracy in reporting data on DHIA forms. This award is given annually to the technician who commits the fewest errors per 1,000 cows tested. Technicians may only win this award once. The winner receives an engraved plaque. There are two categories for the award, recognizing a full-time employee and a part-time employee. The award for a full-time employee went to Henry Halstead, Butler County. The part-time employee award went to Margin Stout, Lackawanna County.

Retirement Awards

There were four recipients for the retirement award; Richard Ludwig, McKean County; David Brouse, Union County; Ray Ross, Montour County; Harold Mease, Lebanon County.

Award Of Merit

The Award of Merit is presented annually to each technician who achieves a high standard of performance. To be considered for this award, one must meet minimum length of service and workload requirements. Additionally, technicians must score a minimum of 90 points on a worksheet format

(Turn to Page A38)

Awards of Merit in Region 4 were presented to (first row) Menno Sollenberger, Franklin Co.; Arlan Crider, Franklin Co.; Gerald Miller, Chester Co.; Lonnie Will Swanger, Cumberland Co.; Jim Batz, Dauphin Co.; (Second Row) Jay Risser, Lancaster Co.; John O'Toole, Perry Co.; Carol Spatz, Berks Co.; Joann Moser, Berks Co.; Shane Henry, Cumberland Co.; (Third Row) with Dave Shenk, Region Manager; Jim Benfield, Montgomery Co.; Chris Yohn, Juniata Co.; Mike Cordell, Franklin Co.; George Cashell, Franklin Co.

Gary Davies of Susquehanna County receives the Herb Gilmore Superior Technician Award from Dean Amick, Director of Field Services for PA DHIA.

Rookie of the Year Award winner Teresa Shick, Jefferson Co. presented by Dean Aden, Region 1 Manager.

Ray Ross of Montour Co. receives his retirement award from Dean Amick, Director of Field Services.

Dave Bigelow, Director of Technician Training presents the Putnam Award to Margin Stout, Lackawanna Co.

Distinguished Service Award winner Cherie Bonavita, Susquehanna Co. and Scott Williams, Region 5 Manager.

FAIR DAYS

FoxChase 4-H Club members who participated in the fair.

In the breeding sheep, Ernest "Bo" Schmidheiser had the grand champion and Adam Ruff had the reserve and was the champion showman. Judge Henry Gruber made the presentations.

SIXTH ANNUAL PHILADELPHIA COUNTY FAIR HELD

Ag education is one of the primary goals of the Philadelphia County Fair held in early June in Fairmount Park in downtown Philadelphia. participating in the fair is both Saul High School, which is located on Henry Avenue in the city and the Fox Chase 4-H Club, located in Rockledge. Nearly 75 young people entered their hogs, sheep, dairy and beef animals in the 10-day event. The fair is sponsored by the "Friends of Fairmount Park", a non-profit organization and is managed by Fair Inc. from Rockledge, Florida. Reithoffer Midway is the carnival associated with the Fair.

In addition to the market swine show, the second annual swine sale was held. A total of 29 hogs were sold. The Supreme Champion hog was a 4-H animal shown by Denise Olenick from Fox Chase 4-H Club. Her hog brought $550.00 and was purchased by Hatfield Quality Meats. Contending bidder was Robin Turner from Fair Inc. Other buyers included Lebanon Valley National Bank, Bunky Boger, Ron Miller, Leidy Packing, New Holland Sales Stable, Bobby Jinks, D.L. Grumbine, Harry Bachman, Evergreen Tractor, Nora Caruso, Medford Meats, Henry Gruber, Dr. Dale Streams and Dave Weatherall.

Fox Chase 4-H Club has nearly forty members and they all carry animal 4-H projects. They meet twice a month and all animals are housed at the Fox Chase Farm. Leaders for the club include Dave and Darl Weatherall and Bill McFadden.

Saul High School had approximately thirty students involved in showing beef, sheep, hogs and dairy. James Bain was the instructor involved with the students at the fair.

Scott Moser and Dave Weatherill worked with the students on a daily basis and also were in charge of "set-up" and "tear-down".

FFA & 4-H winners are as follows:

FFA WINNERS

Champion Dairy - Joanne Riddle, Philadelphia
Champion Market Steer - Don Weitzmann, Philadelphia
Champion Market Sheep - Meredith King, Philadelphia

4-H WINNERS

Champion Dairy - Denise Olewnik, Philadelphia
Campion Market Steer - Joanne Riddle, Philadelphia
Champion Market Sheep - Wayne Whitfield, Philadelphia
Champion Breeding Sheep - Ernest Schmidheiser, Philadelphia

Taking agriculture to the city is very important in this age where people think "milk" comes from the supermarket. In addition to the competitive agriculture events, Animal Specialities from Lowell, Arkansas had three large tents where the "City Slickers" could see chickens hatched, sit on a Brahma bull and milk a cow.

In the Domestic Arts area, the following received Best of Show:

Department 10	4-H & FFA	Ellen Nave, Horsham
Department 11	Youth Under 19
	Vegetables	Lance Lazarus, Breinigsville
	Needlecraft & Crafts	Donald Weitzmann, Philadephia
Department 12	Grain and Hay	Brian Fulmer, Pen Argyl
Department 13	Vegetables	Lorissa Lazarus, Breinigsville

Hall Of Fame

Pennsylvania DHIA started an employee Hall of Fame this year. There are two categories in the Hall of Fame, which are PA DHIA employees — past or present. The following criteria are to be followed when one is placed in the Hall of Fame. An employee must have worked for at least 10 years, must have been a winner of the merit award (for technicians only), displayed leadership qualities in DHIA and/or community, displayed a cooperative attitude.

Bob Akers was placed in the deceased section while Dean Amick, director of field operations; Lorene Dunn, Potter County; Gerald Miller, Chester County; Jay Risser, Lancaster County; Walter Stydinger, Perry County; Harry Fritz, Franklin County; were placed in the present section.

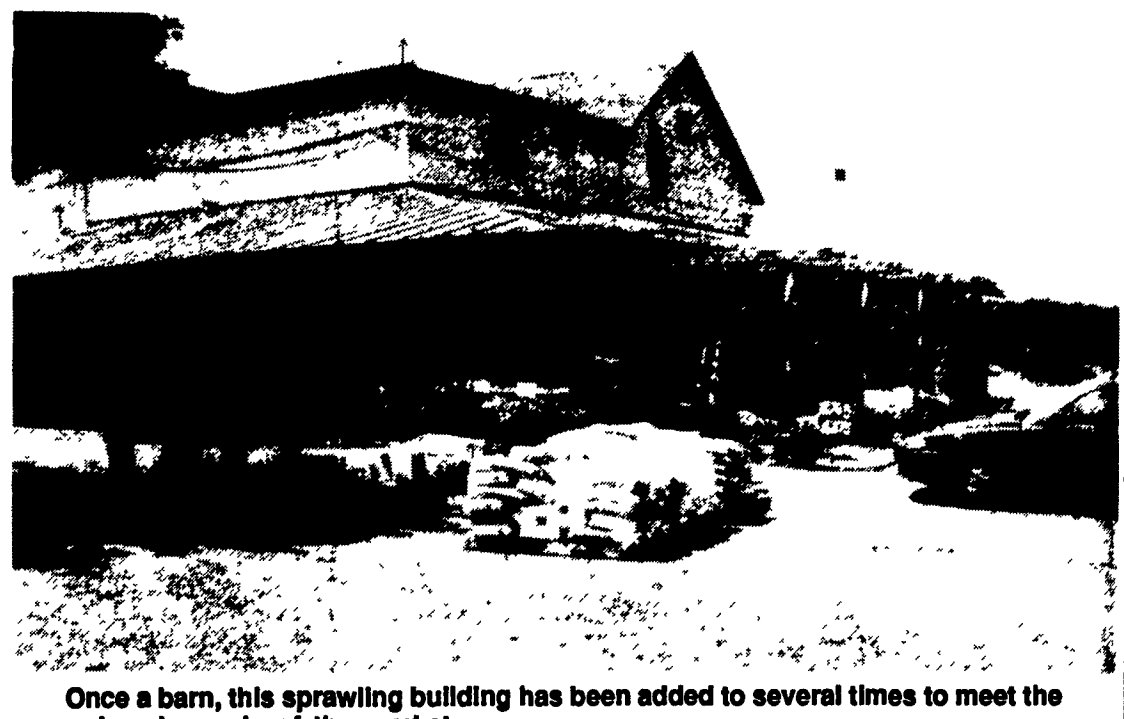
Although the market is located in a rural area, customers are always coming and going at the roadside market located two miles south of Catawissa. Ronald and Cathy Rohrbach with children Mark and Deborah are ready for the day's business.



Once a barn, this sprawling building has been added to several times to meet the growing demands of the market.

Changes, Challenges Keep Farm Market Growing

CATAWISSA (Columbia Co.) — Change and challenge intertwine at Rohrbach's Farm Market and Apple Core Gift Shop along the picturesque Rt. 487, two miles south of Catawissa.

From a passerby's observances, the sprawling market appears to be a thriving, profitable business. But the success that Ronald and Cathy Rohrbach experience can neither be chalked up to mere luck nor is it without sweat, discouragement, and prayer.

With 185 acres planted in vegetables and another 45 acres in orchard, the Rohrbachs know how dependent their livilihood is upon the weather.

"Out of five years, we had three disasterous years from droughts. Unlike what most people think, we can't recoup those losses from one good year, because the margins aren't there. It may take 10 years to make up losses from one," Kathy said.

The farm market has its roots in Ron's grandfather's era. His grandfather was always in the produce business and peddled homegrown vegetables door to door in nearby towns. Ron's dad wanted to continue the produce business, so he encouraged the purchase of a 100-acre farm, from which the business continues to operate.

Although some animals were raised on the farmland, the purpose of the purchase was to grow more produce and maintain a small apple orchard planted on five to six acres.

The original intent was to have a small self-service roadside market where homegrown potatoes, apples, cider, and eggs were sold.

"Produce was always in dad's blood," Ron said. As business expanded, the barn was remodeled to use as a store. Since then, the building has been added on to several times to accommodate a bakery, a deli, and a gift shop. Ron's parents, George and Margaret Rohrbach, help out with the market, but Ron and Cathy are now in charge of the operation after a gradual transition.

The couple has three children who have always been diligent workers on the farm. This year their eldest daughter Denise was graduated from Houghton College. Although she would have loved to return to the family farm, she had a job offer too good to turn down and one that farm prices could not match.

Seventeen-year-old Mark loves the massive amount of fieldwork required on the farm. He has no intentions of looking elsewhere for a job. Nineteen-year-old Deborah will be a sophormore at Bloomsburg University in the fall, but in the meantime she fills her niche at the cash register.

"We attempt to give the kids free rein and not as slaves," Ron said of the desire to use them in the business.

Although the winding road that passes the Rohrbachs appears to be a rural road, it is actually the main artery from Bloomsburg and is located only three miles from Knoebel's Grove, the well-known family amusement park.

The Rohrbachs are constantly searching for new ways to keep customers coming on a regular basis. They attend many marketing meetings to hear ideas that have worked for other produce markets.

They sell farm-fresh milk in glass jugs. While milk tastes better from glass, the Rohrbach's are practical and don't see that as a growing market.

They make their own deli items, which include sandwiches for customers looking for an on-the-spot lunch.

An in-house bakery was added in recent years. Many other bakeries use purchased pie shells and fill them to call them home baked, but the flavor of Rohrbach pie crusts can't be beat. They also offer unique baked goods such as monkey bread.

Ron thins the peach crop, a job that requires lots of help on the family's 45-acre orchard.

Six years ago, the Rohrbachs started selling wooden lawn furniture.

"Nobody up here was selling that at the time. At first we did a tremendous business with the furniture and the lawn ornaments," Ron said.

But like anything else that seems to generate sales, everyone else started selling it.

The Rohrbachs try and compensate for this onslaught by finding more distinctive items, which has helped, but the lawn furniture business is not what it used to be.

At one time Christmas trees were a great off-season selling point. But those also have become too prolific in the area. And the markup hardly makes it worth the time of selling the trees.

A few years ago, the Rohrbachs hired a consultant for ideas on helping the farm market become more eye-appealing.

Right away the layout of the store needed to be revamped.

"The consultant saw the store as appearing too much like a convenience store because we were hiding our produce behind displays of sodas," Ron said.

A spectacular display of fresh produce in open bins and in an old wooden wheelbarrow and farm wagon now grabs customer attention as soon as the door is opened.

One of the ways suggested to generate extra sales was to sale bedding plants. Although they do not own their own greenhouse, the market offers a large array of bedding plants.

Bedding plants and geraniums thrive under Cathy's daily care.

The Apple Core Gift Shop offers unique pottery, a large variety of coverlets, cookbooks, candles, and other gift items.

The average customer has changed from Ron's father's generation until now. A new generation of consumers now prefer to eat fresh produce instead of preserving it. No longer do they sell bushels of produce to one customer.

"Instead, the customer wants to be able to buy fresh year-round in smaller quantities and that means more work for us," said Ron.

While the customer base has expanded, the amount sold is in smaller quantities and does not add up to larger overall sales.

When Ron's parents had the roadside stand, only in-season produce was sold. His parents raised celery, which was sold over a three-to-four week period, but now customers want celery year-round.

According to the Rohrbachs, it doesn't necessarily pay to ship in produce, especially during the winter months when customers aren't as plentiful at the farm market.

Unlike the beginning years of the farm market, supermarkets abound with fresh year-round produce. While homegrown is fresher at the farm market during the growing season, produce quality continues to improve in supermarkets.

"We have increasing competition from supermarkets. There are five major malls and Walmart within one hour's drive from here.

The Farm Bureau's Women's Federation has designed this coverlet in the colors of hunter green, cranberry, and cream, which Cathy is displaying. It sells for $50 plus $5 for shipping and handling. To order, call Dolly George, (717) 356-7482.

Unlike the perception many people have, food is not always cheaper at chain stores. Chain stores will often offer a few items below cost to attract customers. For example, Rohrbachs can actually buy soft drinks cheaper from Walmart than from their own supplier. While the Rohrbachs can't compete on that item, there are other items that they do sell cheaper and it's often better quality.

"They don't take care of their plants at those stores," Ron said. The hanging baskets and plants surrounding the farm market are vibrant and growing.

The Rohrbachs do have one large drawing card that outweighs competition. That is the farm.

"There is something about coming to the farm that people like," Ron said.

The family capitalizes on this by offering special events. These include fun-filled weekends celebrating a spring open house, Mother's Day with a craft show, an annual strawberry social, an annual corn roast and peach fest, a fall pumpkin festival, October hayrides, and a Christmas holiday celebration.

Food samples, door prizes, refreshments, and fun-filled activities abound.

At one time the pick-your-own strawberry business boomed. Then business dwindled. This past season saw a resurgence in pick-your-own with participation doubling. It's difficult to predict what will work and what won't.

The increase in strawberry picking may have been due to the Changes, Challenges

weather, to competitors dropping out, or to consumers' nostalgic for picking berries like they did when they were kids.

Seasonal activities such as the strawberry social draw crowds, and sales soar during these events. But the winter months are dead.

"We are taking a hard look at closing for a few months over the winter. But if we do that, the question is, can we get the customers back?" Ron asked.

It's a question that many farm markets are asking.

About 20-35 people are employed for seasonal help, which dwindles to 5 to 6 during winter months.

"We are in a growing pain situation right now," Ron said. "We are large enough that we need extra help, but not large enough to support a produce manager."

While changes are constantly being made to accommodate the need to keep the farm market thriving, Cathy said, "One thing hasn't changed. While cleaning out a storage area recently, I came across an old poster from 10 years ago that listed 10 pounds of potatoes for 99 cents. We still sell potatoes at that price, but our cost for sprays, fertilizers, and insurance has gone up and up. . . ."

At one time, the Rohrbachs farmed 650 acres, which included grains, but they reduced it to 350 acres of produce about five years ago.

"Farming the land with grains was wearing out equipment, so we decided to concentrate more on the market," Ron said.

The red shale soil on the acreage is conducive to growing vegetables, but irrigation is needed. Two ponds in the fields are used as the irrigation source.

With 185 acres to plant and harvest in vegetables, the need for seasonal labor is overwhelming. Although local labor is used for marketing and processing, the Rohrbachs have contracted hired help through the services of a farm labor contractor who provides transportation and housing for workers from another country.

In addition to summer and fall fieldwork, pruners are needed in the winter and help for greenhouse transplanting later. Workers are also needed to thin peaches.

"The workers are polite and don't steal. They may fill their lunchboxes with strawberries to take home, but they deserve that," Ron said.

"I can't find a local workforce to do what they do. The crew is dependable regardless of weather and schedules. Although we don't like to force people to work if it's raining or if they have a family picnic, the problem is that when the crop is ready it must be harvested immediately. Unlike Americans—us included—workers from other countries are happy to work and don't complain about the weather."

Ron's sister, a son, and a daughter also work in the store.

Ron recalls when he returned to the farm from college, he was full of ideas and enthusiasm for the business. His dad was more hesitant to try new ideas. "Now I understand that a balance of finances is needed. I didn't understand the economics of the business back then," he said.

Cathy is in charge of the gift shop, scheduling market help, and advertising.

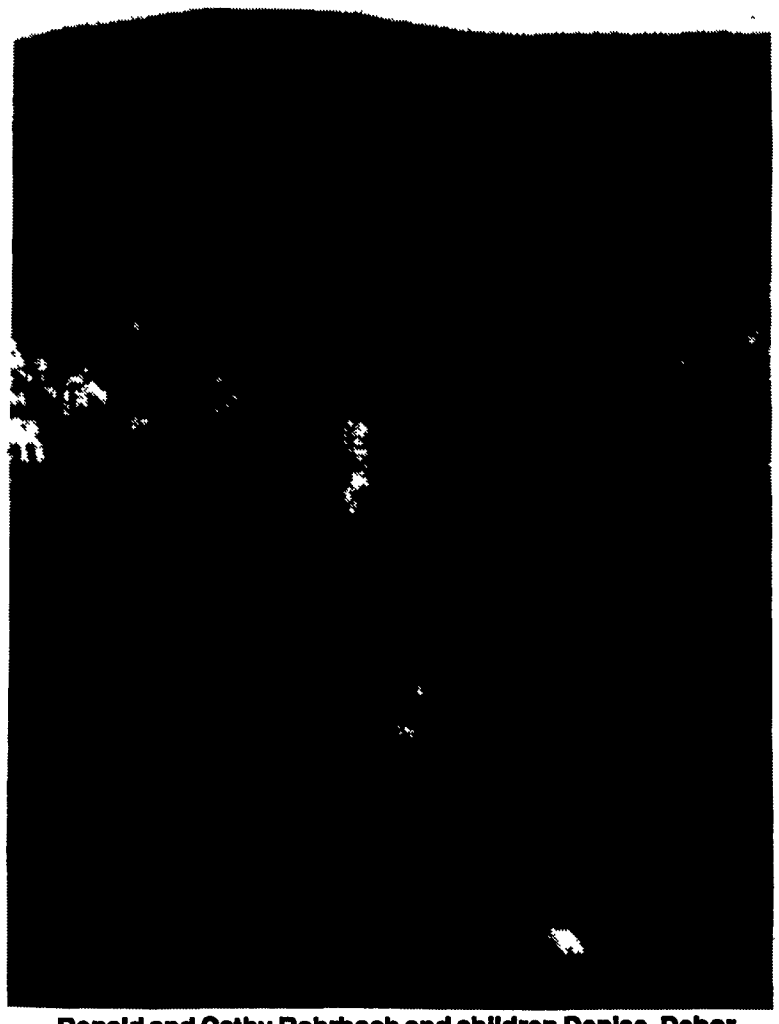
Although they want to operate a successful business, they aren't interested in merely making money.

Cathy said, "I want this to be a place where employees can come and enjoy working. I pray daily for our relationship with the employees. One might not like to work at the cash register but love working in the bakery. We try to help each one find their niche."

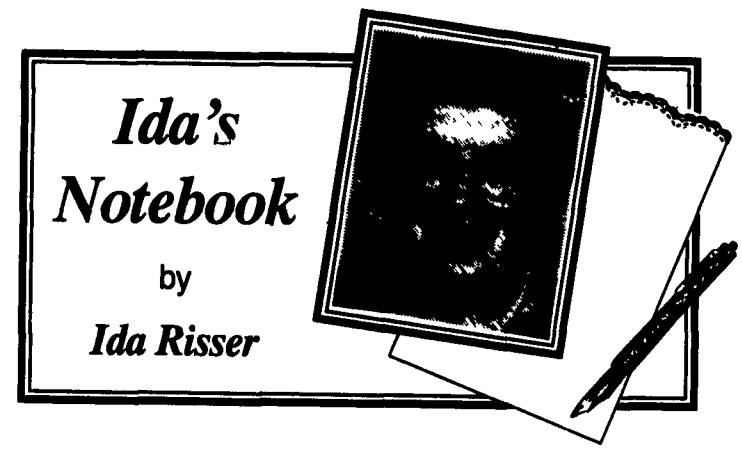
Outside of the business, Ron is president of Columbia County's Penn State Extension board and is serving a fourth term as president of the Crop Management board. Both husband and wife are members of the county Farm Bureau. Cathy is on the ladies committee that has designed a coverlet sold to profit the Ag in the Classroom program.

The Rohrbachs are involved in their local church, where they were former youth group leaders.

Rohrbach's Farm Market hours now through October are 8 a.m.-8 p.m. and Saturday 8 a.m.-5 p.m. The market is closed on Sunday. For more information, call (717) 356-7654.



Ronald and Cathy Rohrbach and children Denise, Deborah, and Mark farm 185 acres of vegetables and 45 acres of orchards in Columbia County. Most of the produce is sold at the on-the-farm market called Rohrbach's Farm Market and Apple Core Gift Shop.



As I write this article our area is still seven inches short of the average rainfall. My husband had put soaker hose along the strawberry rows and around the black raspberry patch. Thus, we got enough for ourselves, some to sell and some to share. There are green beans but not as many as I expected in my garden.

Our son and his family, on the farm, have done quite a bit of traveling this summer. With their three little children packed in a small car, they drove to Oklahoma. There he was bestman in a wedding of a college friend from New York City. As they were reasonably close to Texas, a visit to his sister was next on the planned trip. Then came a long drive to Atlanta where another sister and a brother live. Here they enjoyed a few days as they visited the zoo and Stone Mountain for a laser show one night. On their way home, they stopped to see his oldest brother near Richmond to complete the 2,900 mile trip.

The herdsman and my husband kept the farm running. But of course, that would be the time that the feeder chain broke and a cow got sick. It is just what one expects on a dairy farm.

Philip now has a full-time job as an engineer. He designes fire engine ladders and towers and uses the education that he got at Penn State and the University of Wisconsin. As he is away from the farm on his day job, his wife has extra responsibility. She not only tends their children, but also works editing scientific books.

Some things we can control but the weather is not one of them. We all keep ourselves very busy and do the best that we can with what we have been given.

July bugs me.

January brings us cozy nights with the woodstove, fresh snow on the pines and skiing opportunities. April offers gentle breezes, soft showers and daffodils. October is brisk with crisp fall weather, exhilarating slightly-frosty mornings and gorgeous colored foliage.

To its credit, July is a homey month, with the yummy goodness of fresh garden tomatoes, early peaches, tangy blueberries, the beginning of intense, colorful blooms from the annuals — and of course, our national birthday celebration.

July also brings us heat, humidity, haze — the absolute worst weather conditions for dairy cows. Not real comfortable for people either.

But fantastic for bugs. And, by mid-month, we can depend on a full count of summer visitors in the form of dive-bombing mosquitos, swarms of gnats, Japanese beetles chewing away at the roses. Potato beetles. Earwigs. Tomato horn worms. Yuck.

Is it a twist of poetic justice that "July" rhymes with "fly?" Actually, the flies arrived a couple of weeks late this year, thanks no doubt to the cool evenings (which are welcome) and our local continuing parched-drought-conditions (which aren't). Except for holding down the fly population.

Over the eons, flies seem to have kept up with other progresses of civilization. And, since we people don't have tails with which to keep them away, like cows or horses, civilization has ever striven to devise new, improved anti-fly measures.

July, when I was a kid, brought out a screendoor ornament that probably no one uses anymore. When fly season kicked in, my parents would saturate a large piece of cotton with ordinary household flyspray, then fasten it to the screen of the back door. The spray lingering in the cotton kept the flies a respectable distance from the door, when the kids went parading inside, at least an army of pests didn't follow.

And, I vaguely remember the use of a small, hand-held sprayer which, when hand-pumped, sent to the pests an atomized mist of anit-fly stuff from a small tank-reservoir of the liquid. Now we have the new, improved pressurized spray cans which required no pumping, but sometimes aggravatingly lose their pressurization. Even more new and improved are the back-pack type sprayers for larger areas and automatic foggers which periodically send a fine mist into the air.

While we find it necessary to spray for flies around the cattle, I prefer to use more passive means of fly deterrent in enclosed areas where I'm working. One such electronic anti-pest device is the bug-light, a shocking experience for flies and their relatives. The backyard turkeys we used to raise loved their daily ration of the bugs that collected in the bottom of the bug-zapper we once used in the calf barn.

For awhile, we kept stockpiled (especially when they turned up on sale somewhere) the classic sticky-paper fly strips, the kind all curled up in a little tube. Which you carefully unfurl hoping not to get yourself (especially your hair) stuck in the sticky part. One of those hanging over the calf nursery sink was a summertime decorating staple.

Then, last year, I inherited a new, improved version. It's a very narrow, several-hundred-feet-long roll of sticky tape which is stretched around an area and cranked onto an empty roll at the other end as used. Ours is strung in a rectangular circuit around the upper inside walls of the calf nursery. It's quiet, odorless, and when a new section is cranked out daily, fairly effective. Only distasteful part is the daily cranking onto the empty roll of a tape covered with dead flies.

So it was interesting to receive, several months ago, information about The Toad, a fly-catcher created by Lancaster County inventor Jim Welsh, Jr. The Toad is a screened box with a special trap through which the flies enter and become entrapped. It's baited with a piece of raw fish filet — preferably catfish or shark because those don't get as mushy as they "age" — that needs changed only every several days. Sounds very environmentally friendly.

And, if all else fails, there's always the granddaddy of all fly-control devices on which we can fall back.

It's called a Flyswatter.

Lacking a tail, it could be one of man's best-loved tools. Especially in mid-July.

Carrie Way Reigns In Clearfield County

CLEARFIELD (Clearfield Co.) — Carrie Ann Way was crowned Clearfield County Dairy Princess recently. The coronation took place at Clearfield's Quality Farm and Fleet Store.

Carrie is the daughter of Don and Mary Way of Clearfield. A senior at Clearfield High School, Carrie participates in varsity softball, basketball statistics, and is president of the FFA Chapter.

Carrie is also active in the county 4-H dairy club and served as a former dairy maid for the county.

Assisting Carrie in dairy promotion is Alternate Vicki Henry, daughter of Tom and Kathy Henry of Clearfield. A graduate of Clearfield High School, Vicki will be attending Lock Haven University, Clearfield Campus, in the fall. Vicki is an active member of the Clearfield FFA Chapter, the 4-H Dairy Club, and the livestock and poultry clubs.

Dairy Maid Janel Curry, daughter of Mevin and Joan Curry of Curewensville, was also crowned.

The program included country music entertainment by Dick Michael. A luncheon followed.

Peachy Fruit Makes Fabulous Finales

Dessert anyone?

Whether it's a weekend brunch or weekday dinner, you'll have nutrition-conscious family and friends answering "yes" when you offer these luscious fruit desserts.

Fresh peaches are at their peak in July and August. And, this year's crop is especially sweet due to the hot dry weather we've been experiencing.

For flavorful, refreshing, lowfat desserts, serve fruit fresh. Don't forget to preserve some of that summer goodness by canning, freezing, and stirring up several batches of peach jelly or jam.

For a dessert with added flair, try these recipes.

CREAMY PEACH PIE

3-ounce peach gelatin
¾ cup boiling water
1 cup peach ice cream
1 cup cold milk
4-ounce package vanilla instant pudding
½ cup whipped dairy topping
1 baked 8-inch pie shell

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add ice cream; stir until melted. Combine milk and pudding, mix in smaller mixer bowl. Beat at low speed of electric mixer for two minutes. Add gelatin mixture; whip until thick and fluffy. Fold in whipped topping; spoon into pie shell and chill about 2 hours. Garnish with additional whipped topping and fresh or drained frozen peaches and raspberries, if desired. Serves 6.

EASY PEACH COBBLER

¾ cup flour
1 cup granulated sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
6 tablespoons butter
2 cups sliced fresh peaches or other fruit
1 cup granulated sugar

Combine in a bowl, flour, sugar, baking powder, milk, and salt. Mix thoroughly. In a 2-quart baking dish, melt butter. Pour batter over melted butter

Toss peaches with 1 cup granulated sugar. Spread over top of batter. Do not stir.

ICE CREAM COOKIE CAKE

¾ cup softened butter
½ cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1¾ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 cup chopped pecans
1½ cups dairy whipped topping
24 fresh or canned peach slices
1¼ cup packed light brown sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1¼ cups uncooked quick oats
½ teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1½ quarts softed pecan ice cream

Cookie batter: Beat butter, brown sugar, and granulated sugar in large bowl until fluffy. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Mix in combined flour, oats, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. Mix in pecans. Line two 12-inch pizza pans with aluminum foil and lightly butter. Spread half the dough on each pan, using spatula or lightly floured fingertips. Bake cookies at 350 degrees until browned, 12-15 minutes. Cool in pans approximately 15 minutes or until firm enough to remove from pan.

Place one cookie on serving plate or pizza pan. Spread ice cream evenly across cookie. Place second cookie on top of ice cream. Place in freezer until ready to eat. Cut into pie-shaped wedges to serve. Top each wedge with large dollop of whipped cream and peach slices. Makes 12 servings.

PEACH RHUBARB JAM

2 quarts fresh or frozen rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces
4 cups sugar
3-ounces orange Jell-O
21-ounce can peach pie filling

In a large bowl, combine rhubarb and sugar, allow to stand overnight. Transfer to a large saucepan, bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer for 10 minutes. Meanwhile, dice peaches in pie filling, add to mixture and return to boiling. Remove from heat. Add orange Jell-O; stir until dissolved. Spoon in freezer containers. Cool completely. About 7 pints.

For a dessert with added flair, use summer fruits.

PEACH DROPS

½ cup butter, softened
3-ounce package cream cheese, softened
¼ cup packed brown sugar
½ cup peach preserves
1¼ cups all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts, pecans, or walnuts

Frosting:

1 cup sifted powdered sugar
¼ cup peach preserves
1 tablespoon butter

Cream butter, cream cheese, and sugar until fluffy. Stir in peach preserves.

Sift together all-purpose flour, baking powder, cinnamon, and salt and stir into creamed mixture. Fold in nuts. Drop by level tablespoons on greased baking sheet.

Bake at 350 degrees until lightly browned about 12 minutes. Cool.

Blend together sugar and butter and add preserves; mix thoroughly. Frost the cooled cookies. Yields about 3½ dozen.

CHILLY PEACH COOLER

2 cups cold skim milk
1 cup unsweetened sliced peaches
2 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate
2 talespoons honey
Fresh mint for garnish

Place all ingredients in blender container, cover. Blend on high speed until smooth and frothy. Serve immediately in tall glasses garnished with mint.

Liza Haas, Penn State Dairy Princess, reminds us that July is Ice Cream Month.

Did you know the delicious ice creams of today evolved from the flavored ices popular with the Romans in the fourth century B.C.? These great men: Alexander the Great, Marco Polo and George Washington have been noted for their association with ices and ice cream. In addition, Nancy Johnson invented the hand-crank freezer in 1846 which made home ice cream making relatively easy.

This July, sit down to your favorite flavor of ice cream or try these simple to make muffins.

Blueberry
Ice Cream Muffins

1 cup vanilla ice cream, softened
1 cup self-rising flour
1 cup fresh blueberries

Combine ice cream and flour, stirring until moistened. Fold in blueberries. Spoon batter into paper lined minature muffin pans filling ⅔ full. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Yield 1½ dozen muffins.

Chocolatey Chocolate
Cake and Ice Cream Roll

1 cup cake flour or ¾ cup all-purpose flour
¼ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs (½ to ⅔ cup)
1 cup granulated sugar
½ cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 pint vanilla ice cream (slightly softened)
Confectioner's sugar

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Line chocolate roll pan, 15½ x10½ x1 inch, with aluminum foil or waxed paper; grease. Stir together flour, cocoa, baking powder and salt; set aside.

In small mixer bowl, beat eggs about 5 minutes or until very thick and lemon colored. Pour eggs into large mixer bowl; gradually beat in granulated sugar. On low speed, blend in water and vanilla. Gradually add flour mixture, beating just until batter is smooth. Pour into pan, spreading batter to corners.

Bake 12 to 15 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Loosencake from edges of pan; invert on towel sprinkled with confectioner's sugar.

Carefully remove foil; trim off stiff edges if necessary. While hot, roll cake and towel from narrow end. Cool on wire rack. Unroll cake; remove towel. Spread ice cream on cake. Roll up; wrap in plastic wrap. Freeze several hours or until firm.

York's Roses Are The Very Best

"Of all the flowers, me thinks a rose is best."
William Shakespeare

Antique roses are found in every form of art. Painters, poets, playwrights and sculptors down through history have used the rose in every setting imaginable.

Many species of hertiage roses bloom just once a growing season, but some will bloom again in the fall and a few provide continuous bloom.

Antique roses, also called heritage roses, generally include roses identified before the 1860s. In the 1860s rose expositions became popular in Europe and plant breeders developed rose varieties with flamboyant colors and larger flowers.

The rose varieties developed during these times include the hybrid tea varieties and grandiflora strains, many of which dominate gardens today.

However, these hybridized varieties have lost valuable traits such as disease resistance, hardiness, pronounced rose hips and fragrance. Antique roses retain most of all of these characteristics. Antique roses have much smaller flowers that are more in proportion to the plant. The colors are often pale: white, cream, pale yellow, pink, violet and red. Most heritage species are shrubs that grow in arching shapes, in contrast to the stalk-like tea rose plants. Antique species often display striking leaves with intricate edging.

Antique roses need minimum care. No spraying is needed. Just prune dead wood, rake an insulating layer of leaves onto the plant for winter and add a spring and summer feeding.

Antique roses can be pruned to adapt to any space. Good reference books on antique roses are recommended for those interested in heritage varieties like:

•Damask "Quatre Saisons," developed before 1500 is a continual bloomer and has a very thickly petaled flower.

•Gallica "Rosa Mundi," developed about 1600 is a sturdy rose.

•Noisette "Blush Noisette," developed in 1817, has a light blush flower.

•Alba "Celestial" was developed in 1759.

•China "Mutablis," developed in 1890, blooms continuously and will change color shades.

•Scotch Brier "Stanwell Perpetual" was developed in 1838.

•Portland Damask "Jacques Cartier" was developed in 1868.

No matter what rose type you're growing, roses can look good all summer despite the drought. Maintaining roses requires regular and proper watering. It is the key to spectacular blooming and plant longevity. Remember, deep watering is always required. If unable to spend an extra minute watering them deeply, then it's better not to water them at all.

Secondly, avoid dense plantings. Maintain good weed control so that air can circulate around each plant. Avoid wetting your plants when irrigating. And, make sure the leaves have time to dry quickly after watering.

All of these methods will result in less leaf yellowing caused by black spot, a fungus disease. This disease attacks young expanding leaves and canes. Then, it's splashed to the lower leaves by watering.

With humid weather in June, rose black spot may be needed. Prevention remains the best control. Spraying every 10 days with a labeled fungicide (especially after it rains) prevents new fungal spores from infecting new leaves. For small plantings a fungicide aerosal like triforine (funginex) mixed with an insecticide is often sufficient. For larger plantings a host of other products will work.

MAMMA Takes Milk Thing Out To Ball Game

TOWNSON, Md. — More than 6,500 consumers got "up close & furry" with the Mid-Atlantic area's number one milk spokescharacter during MAMMA's recent promotion at the Bowie Baysox on Wednesday, June 27. The Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Association (MAMMA) combined "That Milk Thing's" antics with an old-fashioned cow milking contest to provide an entertaining and unpredictable evening for fans of all ages.

Baseball players from both the Bowie Baysox and the visiting team of Trenton Thunder tried their luck at the cow milking contest. Although the Baysox fell short to Trenton by one homerun, they were the hometown winners for the cow milking contest. Other activities included a seat-cushion giveaway to the first 1000 adults and a temporary "That Milk Thing" tattoo giveway to all children with parental permission.

Maryland dairy princesses and other royalty assited with the giveaway and helped children with the temporary tattoos. "That Milk Think" kept busy during the game signing autographs and greeting fans. WTTG Fox 5 from Washington D.C., along with local radio stations, provided coverage of the event.

MAMMA's promotion at the Bowie Baysox was the first of four minor league promotions held throughout the summer. "That Milk Thing's" trip to the ballgame will be on July 21 at the Frederick Keys. Promotions at the Delmarva Shorebirds and Harrisburg Senators are scheduled for July 23 and August 13, respectively.

QUESTION — Stephanie Huger, Meyerstown, is looking for a recipe for pumpkin strudel with poppy seeds and sour cream or cream cheese. Her grandmother from Hungary made it, but Stephanie lost the recipe.

QUESTION — Cel Brown of West Chester wants the recipe for a bread mix like the ones in the store called Daily Bread Company's. These mixes can be made ahead of time.

ANSWER — Bobbie Lawson, Churchville, Va., requested recipes for making sausage other than sausage gravy because she has many packages of sausage in her freezer. Here is a delightful collection from Trudy Ashelman, Orangeville.

Sausage Bread

1 loaf frozen bread, (thaw and let rise)
1 pound sausage cooked and drained
½ pound grated mozzarella cheese
½ teaspoon garlic powder
½ teaspoon oregano

Lightly grease hands and spread dough like pizza dough. Fill dough with sausage, cheese, and sprinkle with spices. Start at one end and roll up the bread. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes or until golden brown. Can be served with sauce.

Peachy Recipes

Sausage-Cheese Turnovers

10 ounce can big refrigerated biscuits
½ pound sausage, cooked and drained
¼ teaspoon Italian seasoning
4-ounce can mushrooms, drained
4 ounces shredded mozzarella cheese
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 to 2 teaspoon parmesan cheese

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease cookie sheet. Separate dough and press or roll each piece into 5-inch circle. Combine sausage, seasoning, mushrooms, and mozzarella cheese. Spoon 3 tablespoons mixture into center of flattened biscuit. Fold dough in half; press and seal. Brush with beaten egg and sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake 10-15 minutes or until golden brown.

Sausage-N-Pepper Fettuccine

½ pound sausage
½ cup butter
1 cup diced green pepper
½ cup sliced onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon Italian seasoning
4-ounce jar sliced pimientos, undrained
1 cup light cream
12-ounce package fettucine, cooked and drained
½ cup parmesan cheese

Cook sausage until done and remove from pan. In the same pan, melt butter and add pepper, onion, garlic, and seasoning. Cook for 3 minutes. Stir in sausage, pimientos and cream. Cook until heated. Toss in hot fettuccine and sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Serve immediately.

Sausage and Squash Casserole

1 pound cooked sausage
5 cups summer squash (shredded or cubed)
3 eggs (beaten)
1½ cups cracker crumbs
½ cup butter, melted
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups sharp cheese, shredded

Mix all together and bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes.

Sausage Balls

1 pound sausage
8-ounces shredded cheddar cheese
2½ cups Bisquick mix

Mix well and roll into small balls. Bake at 350 degrees for 11 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Serve hot with toothpicks.

Six-Layer Sausage Casserole

1 pound sausage
1½ cups sliced raw potatoes
1 cup sliced raw onions
1 cup sliced raw carrots
½ cup raw rice
1½ cups canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1½ tablespoons sugar

Lightly brown sausage, drain. Into 2-quart buttered casserole, place vegetables in order given. Sprinkle with seasonings mixed together and top with sausage and cover. Bake 1½ to 2 hours at 350 degrees.

Here is another recipe from Lois Bloom, Johnstown, who writes that it is a great-tasting casserole.

Sausage Casserole

1 pound loose sausage
1 medium sweet green pepper, diced
1 medium onion, diced
1 can whole kernel corn, drained
1 can creamed corn
1 box Stove Top stuffing mix

Fix stuffing mix per directions on box. Brown sausage, onion, and pepper until sausage is browned and onion and pepper are soft. Add both cans corn.

Mix stuffing and sausage mixture together. Put into a casserole dish, sprayed with pam.

(Turn to Page B9)

GOLDEN COCONUT PEACH PIE

4½ cups sliced fresh peaches
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons butter
5-ounce can evaporated milk
¼ -½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell
2 cups flaked coconut
1 egg, beaten
¼ teaspoon almond extract

In a medium bowl, combine peaches, sugar, flour, nutmeg, salt, and juice. Pour into pie shell, dot with butter. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes. Meanwhile combine remaining ingredients. Pour over hot filling. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake until the coconut is toasted, about 40 minutes. Serve warm or chilled.

GERMAN FRUIT KUCHEN

Crust:
1½ cups flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg, beaten
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter
1 tablespoon milk

Filling:
4-6 cups peaches
1 cup sugar
1 cup cream
1 tablespoon flour
2 eggs, beaten
½ teaspoon vanilla

Crumb topping:
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup flour

In a mixing bowl, combine flour, salt, and sugar; cut in butter until mixture resembles cornmeal. Mix egg and milk; add to flour mixture. Pat into a greased 13x9x2-inch baking pan.

Arrange fruit on crust. Combine remaining filling ingredients; pour over fruit.

PEACH PIE FILLING TO FREEZE

4 quarts sliced fresh peeled peaches
3½ cups sugar
¾ cup quick-cooking tapioca
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup lemon juice

In large mixing bowl, combine all ingredients. Let stand for 15 minutes. Line four 9-inch pie pans with foil. Spoon fruit mixture into pans and level. Place in freezer until frozen solid. When frozen, close foil, sealing edges well to prevent freezer burns. Remove foil from pans and freeze until ready to use.

To use: Remove frozen peaches from foil and place in unbaked pastry shell. Cover with top crust and seal edges; brush with melted butter. Cover crust with foil. Bake at 400 degrees for 50 minutes. Remove foil after 20 minutes of baking or until crust is golden brown. And filling is hot and bubbly.

Cook's Question

Sausage-Potato Pie

Crust:
- 5 medium potatoes or leftover mashed potatoes
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg, beaten
- ½ cup onion
- ½ cup cornflakes or crackers, crushed
- 2 teaspoons parsley flakes

Filling:
- 1 pound sausage
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 can mushroom soup
- 1 can corn, drained
- 1 cup shredded cheese

Crust: Cook potatoes in salted water until tender. Drain and mash. Stir in egg and add onion, cornflakes, or crackers and parsley. Spread evenly in 10-inch pie plate.

Filling: Brown sausage and drain. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon fat. Add pepper, saute for 5 minutes or until crisp. Stir in sausage and cornstarch. Add the soup and corn heating thoroughly. Put in potato crust and sprinkle cheese on top. Bake at 400 degrees for 25 minutes.

Sausage-Sweet Potato Bake

- 1 pound bulk sausage
- 2 medium raw sweet potatoes, peeled, sliced
- 3 medium apples, peeled and sliced
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup water

Brown sausage in skillet. Break up large piece and drain off excess fat. In 2-quart casserole, arrange sausage, sweet potatoes, and apples. Mix together remaining ingredients and pour over casserole.

Cover and bake at 375 degrees for 50-60 minutes or until potatoes and apples are tender.

Option: use cooked or canned sweet potatoes.

CORRECTION — Naomi Blank, Kinzers, writes that the recipe for Spicy Apple Syrup that was printed a few weeks ago should read cook 1 to 2 minutes, and not 10 to 12 minutes.

ANSWER — Christine Mansberger, Shippensburg, wanted the recipe for a cookie called Five O'Clock Teas, which were made at the Valley Pride Bakery in Shippensburg until they went out of business. Thanks to Fern Freeman, Elliottsburg, for sending a recipe that she knows came from the Shippensburg area.

Five O'Clock Teas

- 1 cup sugar
- ¾ cup butter
- 2 eggs
- 1 box seedless currants
- 1 box seedless raisins
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon baking soda, dissolved in ½ cup lukewarm water
- 2½ cups flour

Cream butter and sugar, add well beaten eggs. Add spices and flour. Mix in fruit and nuts. Add baking soda and water. Drop by teaspoon on baking sheet. Bake at 375 degrees about 10 minutes.

Shore To Store Marketing Campaign

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley joined his counterparts Jack Tarburton from Delaware and Carlton Courter from Virginia June 27 in Milford, DE to launch the annual "Delmarva Shore to Shore" fresh produce marketing program. "Shore to Shore" is a combined Maryland, Delaware and Virginia effort whose goal is to put locally grown fresh fruits and vegetables into the region's major grocery outlets.

In 1996, some 76 stores on the Delaware Peninsula spent more than $1 million on locally grown produce. This year, 98 stores are participating including Acme Markets, Giant Foods, Thriftway, Super Fresh, Farm Fresh, Shop Rite, Bayshore Markets, Meatland/Food City, Food Depot, Super Thrift, Food Rite and Food Lion.

The "Shore to Shore" program started in 1986 and is run by the Delmarva Adivsory Council, a three state organization based in Salisbury, MD. Each summer "Shore to Shore" advertises during the local growing season to encourage consumers to buy locally grown produce. "Shore to Shore" provides in-store signs and literature that easily identifies local fresh fruits and vegetables.

For more information on the "Shore to Shore" program and Maryland agriculture, contact Jim Duffy, Maryland Department of Agriculture, Marketing Services, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD 21401, telephone (410) 841-5770.

BAIR (York Co.) — When you walked into the York County Ag Science Camp at the 4-H Center in Bair the Guernseys, Holsteins and Ayrshires were sitting quietly around tables waiting for their turn at the feed trough.

The Jerseys were already at the trough quickly filling their plates with roast chicken and all the trimmings.

It was lunch time for the 40 fourth and fifth grade, non-farm youngsters who had been divided into groups and, in the spirit of the camp, been given the names of dairy cattle.

Cleaning their plates, they took some time to relax and sing a few songs before dashing off in several directions to take part in workshops such as "Moody and The Cow Chips," which focused on dairy cows, "Udderly Delicious," where they made ice cream and picked strawberries, "Crafty Cows," where crafts were made to take along home, and "Fantastic Foraging," which provided information on field crops and pest management.

The youngsters spent June 24-26 at the overnight camp sponsored by 4-H with the goal of teaching where food comes from. Many of the youth only see food in a grocery store and are not familiar with how it is grown and how farm animals are cared for.

Caring for the animals was high on the list of fun things to do. Leaders were surprised to learn when a survey revealed that the youth's favorite thing to do at camp was "chores."

Tricia Marsala, 10, a student at St. Joseph's Catholic School in York City, said she learned of the camp through a school project and wanted to attend.

"I think the chores are fun and I like to feed the animals and get them water. I also like to milk the goat," she exclaimed.

An enthusiastic Jamie Myers, kneeling on her chair and leaning across a table, her baseball hat turned backwards, said "It's fun and exciting. You never know what's going to happen." The 11-year-old student at Spring Grove Elementary School particularly enjoyed the dilemma when the goat got loose and a counselor had to chase it.

Susan Richardson, 14, a student at Kennard-Dale High School, leads a workshop on breeds of dairy cattle with Lauren Albright, 11, a student at Hannah Penn Middle School in York City School District, and Annmarie Campo, 10, a student at St. Joseph's Catholic School in York City. The youngsters were part of the York County Ag Science Camp for non-farm children held at the 4-H Center in Bair.

Students at Spring Grove Elementary School found the York County Ag Science Camp at the 4-H Center in Bair "fun and exciting."

Fourth and fifth graders who have had no previous contact with farming were invited to the York County Ag Science Camp at the 4-H Center in Bair June 24-26. Students were divided into groups and each named for a breed of cow. There were also groups named Guernseys, Ayrshire and Jerseys.

Jessica Lightcap, 10, a Phineas Davis Elementary School student in York City, liked everything about the camp and noted that while she had cats, dogs and a lizard at home, "We don't feed our animals hay."

Caring for a calf and doing chores was particularly fun for Andrea Schriver, 10, who is also a student at St. Joseph's Catholic School in York.

In the barn some of the animals the 4-H leaders had gathered included calves, a sow with piglets, chicks — that hatched during camp — goats, horses and a cow.

The youth took turns caring for the animals and learned that despite 90 degree-plus temperatures a farmer can not ignore his or her charges.

Linda Spahr, Extension Agent — 4-H Dairy/Livestock, director of the camp, explained that many local farmers donated the animals to be used. The youngsters each got a chance to carry buckets of water and feed to the animals and clean up after them and give them fresh bedding.

Martin's Chips near Thomasville welcomed the youths, taking them on a tour and showing them how potato chips are made, after which Marsala, who had only ever seen chips in a bag on a store shelf, said "It takes a lot more work than I thought it would."

Trips were also scheduled to a J.E. Baker Farm where a well-known name at Christmas in York County — Strathmyer — grows some of its Christmas trees, and the Smyser Richlawn Dairy Farm where they toured the dairy and registered calves. Both of these farms are located on the East Berlin Road.

Michele Grove, 4-H animal science assistant, explained that 15 counselors who are 4-H team leaders, worked with the youth.

One of those counselors, Mark Parrish, 16, who lives north of Hallam, and attends York Catholic High School, said the fun he had working at the camp last year prompted him to take on the job again this year.

Parrish is a member of the East York Community Club and the York County Swine Club, both 4-H clubs.

Another counselor, Tabitha Eimerbrink, 16, of Lewisberry, and a member of Wellsville Boots and Saddles Club, brought her horses along to camp to add to the youngsters' experience.

The camp, she said emphatically, "Gives city kids a chance to learn where food comes from and it's not a store shelf."

Some of the other activities the youngsters took part in were Barnyard Olympics, a camp fire, using computers, and watching films on the production of foods.

The camp was also a bargain costing each child only $10 because York County 4-H received a grant from the national 4-H Council.

Rib-Ticklin' Fun For Kids At Rib Cook-Off

YORK (York Co.) — Kids of all ages will find lots to do at the fourth annual Keystone National Rib Cook-Off and Music Fest, scheduled July 24-27 at the York Fairgrounds, including "Kid's Place" — a wonderland of educational, entertaining and instructional activities that are sure to capture children's attention.

Kid's Place will feature:

•Farm Fun Activities including: "Farmer-for-a-Day," where children learn exactly where the food on the grocer's shelf comes from. "Create-a-Scarecrow" lets kids and adults work together to make scarecrows from materials supplies. "The Grovery Game" encourages parents and children to cooperate while matching a cart full of groceries to the appropriate farm crop. The "Hay Maze" provides fun for all who are up for the challenge.

•The York County Parks Discovery Center will be on hand to amaze and intrigue all the young thinkers. Moms and Dads will be surprised at what they can learn too!

•Ray Owen, Sadie Green Sales Jug Band and Tall Tex will entertain as they stroll throughout the fairgrounds.

•Amusement Rides

•Petting Barnyard

•Clowns

Hours for Kid's Place are Thursday from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m., Friday from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m., Saturday from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m. and Sunday from 1:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Hours for the four-day rib cook-off are Thursday, July 24 and Friday, July 25 from 4 p.m. to closing, and Saturday, July 26 and Sunday, July 27 from noon to closing.

Admission is $4 on Thursday and Friday and $6 on Saturday and Sunday for adults (includes all musical entertainment) and free for children 12 and under. Parking is free.

"Thirst Quenchers"

Did you know that most Americans don't drink as much water as they should? Most adults need to consume six to eight cups of water daily. Water aids digestions, absorption and circulation, transports nutrients, builds tissues, carries away waste, and helps to maintain body temperature. Almost all of the body's living cells need and depend on water to function.

While thirst is a fairly good indicator that the body needs to replenish its water supply, it is not a perfect mechanism. By the time someone is thirsty, he or she is already dehydrated. This is why we are advised to drink six to eight cups of fluids each day, thirsty or not.

Consuming the recommended fluid is especially important for the elderly in hot summer weather because our thirst receptors tend to be less acute as we age.

All liquids are not created equal in their ability to satisfy our fluid needs. Some beverages, such as coffee, tea, and alcohol, actually increase water output because of their diuretic effect. For example, you must drink eight ounces of water to metabolize one ounce of alcohol. That cottonmouth feeling after a few alcoholic beverages is the result of dehydration. When this is compounded by an already somewhat dehydrated state caused by hot weather, consumed alcohol may lead to dangerously high blood-alcohol percentage.

Beverage Ideas

Looking for summertime beverage ideas to quench that thirst? It's always best to start with cold water. Recently, I have found that many restaurants serve small dishes of sliced lemon to iced tea drinkers. A slice of lemon in your glass of water can be very refreshing, and it sometimes masks any off-flavors found in the water. A slice of lime is preferred by some people.

Carbonated water is the next step to snazziness. Be careful of the sugar content when selecting flavored, carbonated water.

Consume caffeinated drinks, such as the popular colas and iced tea, in moderation. Consuming large amounts of caffeine is not considered healthy, plus it might keep you awake far into the night.

Fruit juices are chosen by many people and are caffeine free. For vitamin C, potassium, and folic acid, orange juice or another citrus juice is your best choice. Grape, apple, and pear juice rate at the bottom of the juice barrel in terms of nutrients, but they are healthier than sugar water. Blending different juices can lead to new and interesting flavors.

A summertime favorite is "slushies" made in a blender with ice and fruit. My favorite is the following.

Strawberry Banana Cooler

½ cup unsweetened strawberries
1 cup cold orange juice
4 to 5 ice cubes
½ banana, sliced

Mix ingredients in a blender, and serve at once. (contains 200 calories)

Be aware of juice sodas and canned fruit teas. Most are loaded with sugar. Nine ounces of Snapple Raspberry Royale Soda, for example, has eight teaspoons of sugar — more than you'll find in the same amount of cola!

Vegetable juice is also an alternative, but it can contain as much as 600 milligrams of sodium per eight-ounce glass.

Volunteers Needed At Rib Cook-Off And Music Fest

YORK (York Co.) — The Pennsylvania Livestock Association is looking for volunteers for the fourth annual Keystone National Rib Cook-Off and Music Fest. The rib cook-off will take place Thursday, July 24 through Saturday, July 27 at the York Fairgrounds.

According to Tony Dobrosky, chairman of the Keystone National Rib Cook-off and Music Fe... "Volunteers are needed to help make the event a success. We have a need for volunteers to serve as ticket takers, concession stand workers, table cleaners and runners." The volunteers will work in shifts lasting a minimum of four hours.

Anyone who is interested in volunteering should call (717) 854-2985.

Coloring Contest Winners Announced

COLUMBIA (Lancaster Co.) — Remember the Abe Kauffman Memorial Fund Coloring Contest? Participants needed to color a picture of farm animals and send it to Betty Lou Kauffman who was Abe's wife and an art teacher for 30 years.

She received 87 entries.

"The children were very creative," she writes.

Prizes were sent to the following winners:

Younger age group:

1. Doris M. Weaver, art set. 2. Royell L. Bashore, tractor. 3. Janae Herr, t-shirt and crayons.

Older age group:

1. Ada Ruth King, art set; 2. Ephraim H. Miller, tractor; and James B. Martin, t-shirt and crayons.

To help with the farm-theme park being built in Abe's memory, you can still order the white t-shirt, which includes a seven-color set of reuseable fabric crayons and directions on how to use them. After the shirt is colored, it may be laundred, because the color is permanent if it is first pressed with a hot iron to set color.

Sizes include 6-8 for small child size; 10-12 for medium child; 14-16 for large child or small adult; medium adult, and large adult. Cost is $9.

To order, call (717) 684-9054 or (717) 285-7200 or (717) 684-5510.

The Brillion Soil Commanders take Residue Management to the next generation of soil conservation efficiency.
The Soil Commanders are versatile tillage tools designed to meet the needs of the mid-size farmer who uses a 150-200 H.P. tractor. One of the keys to the machine's versatility is that it uses interchangeable shank legs and individually mounted disk assemblies instead of a disk gang. This makes possible a machine with disk assemblies on the front and rear of the frame with chisel plow or deep-ripper shanks on 15", 24", 27" or 30" spacings

Home for Pennsylvania FFA president Joy Hess, kneeling, is in Gettysburg, where the family works together to farm 1,000 acres and milk 350 cows three times daily. A new barn and a double 10 herringbone milking parlor is being built with plans to increase the herd size to 500 milking cows plus replacements. From left are Jaylene and John Hess with daughter Jaleesa, Dale, Bonnie and John Hess, and Josie holding Hannah, 7 months. Another daughter Jocelyn, 2, is seated on the ground with Joy.

Joy Hess Heads Pennsylvania FFA's 8,000 Members

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

GETTYSBURG (Adams Co.) — Although she is the youngest of three siblings who are leaving their mark on the dairy industry, Joy Noel Hess's imprint on agriculture's future promises to be impressive.

The 19-year-old has already been appointed a hefty responsibility. She is the recently elected president of the 8,000-member Pennsylvania FFA.

The daughter of John and Bonnie Hess is no stranger to hard work. She is in charge of the night shift, milking 350 cows, and in charge of calf feeding and the breeding program on parents, Bonnie and John Hess,' farm in Gettysburg.

Joy's hours in the barn are from 8:30 p.m. to 2 a.m.

"I like those hours because they're cooler in the summer," she said.

Originally the family milked only Holsteins, but when Bonnie was 8 years old, she wanted a Brown Swiss as her 4-H project.

"Dad and my sister liked them a lot too, because Brown Swiss are a lot calmer than Holsteins," Joy said.

She now has 30 registered Brown Swiss on test.

The Hesses live on a 1,000 acre farm complex named JoBo Holstein Farm. When her dad purchased the farm in 1971, only one barn was on the property. A corn shed, two freestall barns, a hospital barn, a calf barn, equipment shed, and commodity shed have been built. In the process of being built is another freestall barn and a double 10 herringbone milking parlor expandable to 18 units. When completed, the Hesses hope to milk 500 cows using only one person.

"Sara is my pride and joy. The last of my 4-H projects is one of the top 10 producing Brown Swiss in Pennsylvania and scored 92 in classification," said Joy. She was instrumental in getting the family to incorporate Brown Swiss into the registered Holstein herd when she selected a Brown Swiss for her first 4-H project. Now 30 Brown Swiss are on test among the 350 cows milked on the family farm.

Her dad said of the family's continual expansion, "To succeed you must be efficient and competitive. It takes dedication by putting forth our best efforts."

Joy is the only sibling still living at home with her parents, but the others live nearby, and most are involved in helping on the farm. Sister Jenny's husband Dale, a brother John, and a sister Josie works full time on the farm. Three other full-time and four part-time employees also work on the farm.

Calves are housed in the 64 calf hutches on the grounds and then moved to one of the 69 box stalls. Two-year-old cows are kept in separate facilities instead of being incorporated into the cow herd.

"They do better when they're not pushed around by older, mature cows," Joy said. "I consider 2-year-olds to be the same as teenagers who are rebelling."

A sprinking system that automatically goes on every five minutes out of every 15 is used to keep cows cool. After the sprinklers were installed in the freestall barn, the family noticed the cows liked it so much they often stood in the headlocks just to get wet.

A manure system holds the manure until it is emptied every season.

Joy said that she took over the farm's breeding program two years ago when she became fascinated with genetics while doing a lot of livestock judging through 4-H and FFA. Through FFA she qualified for national competition and placed in the top 10 in livestock judging.

Joy selects sires to produce fancy show cows. While most of her choices please her, she admits that some combinations produce disappointing results.

Joy takes her cows to about six shows annually. Her sister Josie and another part-time helper assist a bit in the show ring, but most of her siblings don't enjoy showing like she does.

Because of FFA leadership responsibilities, Joy knows that she will miss some show dates this years. "But FFA comes first. Showing cows will be there next year," Joy said.

At this point, Joy doesn't plan to go to college. Instead, she'd like to own her own dairy—a 60-cow herd of both Brown Swiss and Holsteins because they push the milk out, she said.

"And, I've always dreamed of being a professional classifier for the Brown Swiss breed," she said.

In her last year of 4-H, Joy was president of the 4-H Dairy Club and served as a judging coach. She was thrilled that her team advanced to state level. She was also showman and fitting champion. Her cow won grand champion at state level and she was named the outstanding member of 4-H.

"It was hard to walk away from 4-H, but achieving all that helped me feel like I had finished up," she said.

Joy is now a leader of the 4-H Dairy Club. She is also president of the Junior Holstein Club and in 1995 was named outstanding intermediate member of the state. She is a member of the Pennsylvania Brown Swiss Association and was in charge of the Pennsylvania page for the newsletter until appointed state FFA president.

In June, she completed a year as the Adams County Dairy Princess, something that all of her sisters had also achieved.

Although Joy learned a lot through the dairy princess program, she said, "I never could get used to wearing a crown and I don't especially like dressing up."

She feels much more comfortable in FFA garb of dark blue jacket, skirt or trousers.

A 1996 graduate of New Oxford High School, Joy gained experience in leadership by filling offices of both vice president and president of the FFA.

Of being selected as president statewide, Joy said, "I'm really honored to hold that office. I owe a lot to my high school adviser Brian Campbell. He really pushes leadership and people skills."

Joy is the first person from her school to be appointed president. Six years ago, a state chaplain was selected from New Oxford.

"I wanted to be a state officer, but I didn't think that I'd be president," Joy said. "When they announced my name, I froze to my chair. If there was ever a time that I almost passed out, it would have been then," Joy said.

Growing up on a farm, Joy believes, "I learned a different view of life than most of the kids my age. I learned the value of responsibility and work."

Milking three times a day has proved a plus for JoBo Farm.

"The somatic cell count dropped and mastitis is no longer a problem," she said. "At first the herd average dropped but now it's at 23,000 pounds."

BST is not used indiscriminately, but on 25 to 45 percent of herd, depending on the condition of the individual cows. Josie, who is in charge of the daytime milking shift, makes a list of the cows she believes qualifies, and Joy selects from that list.

Her older sister Jenny, a former extension agent, now works for a feed company. Another sister Jane works for Mid-Atlantic Milk Marketing Association. Josie, who is married to Mike Risser and have two children, works full time in the field and barn. She also raises lean beef for marketing. The children generally accompany Josie or are babysat by their grandmother. John is in charge of the fieldwork and his wife Jaylene helps with seasonal fieldwork and occasional weekend milking.

The siblings and spouses who don't work full time on the farm fill in when needed. Joy is counting on their support so that she can fulfill the duties of state FFA president, which will require a lot of traveling.

"The FFA team wants to visit every FFA chapter in Pennsylvania," she said.

"We want the public to become acquainted with FFA and know that it is a youth organization open to anyone and not just agriculture. If you eat food, you are dealing with agriculture."

While many FFA members are no longer involved in production agriculture, Joy doesn't lament the change it is bringing to the organization.

"I think it's great. We can relate better to others if we have a mixture of farm and non-farm kids," she said.

She foresees her ability to "work with anyone" a plus for leadership. Having a sense of humor helps too, she said.

"I'm more nervous about organizating than actually going out and doing the work," she said.

In addition, Joy said that leadership teams in past years have done excellent jobs and she is concerned about living up to what the office has accomplished in previous years.

"But," she said, "my advisers always tell me that I underestimate myself, that I don't have enough confidence."

In her sparetime, Joy enjoys drawing farm scenes, cows, and cartoons. Most of the time, she prefers to work with her show animals.

"I find that relaxing," she said. "It's rewarding to show what you breed. When they win, it's like patting yourself on the back.

"Sara is my pride and joy. She was my last 4-H project. She is classified 92 and is in the top 10 producing Brown Swiss in the state," Joy said.

Another Brown Swiss named Jamie is a 5-year-old. "I can put a halter on her and send her out with my niece. The cow is so tame. I spoil her to death and walk her every day," Joy said.

Of Joy's off-the-farm activities, she said, "My parents have always been supportive and encouraged me."

Joy said that she looks up to her older siblings. "I always wanted to do as well as them, but I don't get pressure from my family to do so," she said.

A sister and her brother ran for state FFA office but were not selected. "That made my dreams stronger. I did it for them," Joy said.

Rib Cookers To Compete

YORK (York Co.) — Some of the country's finest "ribrateurs" will fire up their grills at the fourth annual Keystone National Rib Cook-Off and Music Fest, scheduled for Thursday, July 24 through Sunday, July 27 at the York Fairgrounds. All proceeds from the event will benefit the Pennsylvania Livesotck Association, a non-profit organization.

Crowds of rib lovers will feast on delectable ribs, chicken and other barbecued specialties from 14 ribrateurs representing nine states. The ribrateurs, who will be competing for $3,500 in prize money, are comprised of six Pennsylvania rib cookers and eight out-of-state rib cookers from as far away as Florida, Texas, Alabama and Rhode Island.

The competition will be hot for this year's prize money. Three of the first-place, second-placed and People's Choice Award winners from the 1994, 1995 and 1996 rib cook-offs will be in attendance to defend their titles.

A panel of 10 culinary experts will judge the ribs based on qualities such as visual appearance, texture and flavor. A first-place prize of $2,000 and second-place prize of $1,000 will be awarded by the judges. During the weekend, the crowd will get a chance to vote for their favorite ribs to determine the winner of the $500 Smith Village of Jacobus People's Choice Award. Anyone casting a vote for the People's Choice Award will be entered into a drawing for a chance to win a Holland Grill, compliments of Smith Village of Jacobus.

In addition to piggin' out on barbecue specialties, rib lovers can enjoy a variety of attractions. Non-stop entertainment on the Music Stage presented by Frankle, Bare and Associates will include headline musical performance by The Marshall Tucker Band, David Clayton-Thomas and Blood, Sweat & Tears; James Bonamy; and Blue Oyster Cult. Other highlights include a special Kid's Place, pig races, a craft fair, Jack Russell dog races, strolling performers and much more.

Hours for the four-day festival are: Thursday, July 24 and Friday, July 25 from 4 p.m. to closing and on Saturday, July 26 and Sunday, July 27 from noon to closing. Admission is $4 on Thursday and Friday and $6 on Saturday and Sunday. Children 12 and under are admitted free. Parking is also free. No cans, bottles, coolers, chairs or pets are allowed.

Proceeds from the rib cook-off benefit the Pennsylvania Livestock Association, a 600-member, non-profit organization representing livestock breeders and agribusinesses throughout the state, provides leadership in education, promotion, research and legislation as well as encourages and supports youth activities.

For additional information about the rib cook-off, call 1-800-767-3177.

Stylish Carriage Rides Transport Passengers To Victorian Era

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) — These days Sharon Albertson is doing a lot of driving in a two-seater surrey. Sometimes she switches to her stylish visa vis with convertible top or in case of inclement weather the top remains upright and side curtains are drawn.

All that is missing from the Victorian era scene of the pair of Percherons high stepping down the road with Sharon at the reins are the cobblestone streets.

Corey, 5, and Brianna, 3, enjoy carriage rides. Because their mom Nancy Landis often helps with the horses, they spend lots of time at the Albertson farm.

It's a dream come true for Sharon who grew up in the farming community near Elmira, New York. Three years ago, she and her husband David purchased 15 acres in Manheim for "horses and critters."

Sharon always wanted Percheron horses. For years she attended the five-day international Percheron horse show held annually in Michigan. But it wasn't until she heard through a friend about a sale of carriages and horses, she determined to purchase two of the registered mares and two of the carriages and harnesses.

The mares include Babe, a gray 10-year-old, and Ebony, a black 12-year-old.

Sharon offers 30 minute carriage rides to guests at Mt. Gretna Inn and to others who frequent the popular summer town of Gretna. On weekends a line often forms at the Mt. Gretna Fire Company for those wanting a horse-drawn tour of the area.

Sharon donates a percentage of the profits to the fire company.

During the week, Sharon offers a tour of Amish farmland around her home.

She also offers her sevices for a fee to bridal couples looking for unique transportation and pictures. Sharon will transport the horses and carriages within a 50 mile radius of her Manheim home.

Nancy wears a white shirt, long black riding skirt, high top shoes, and a hat with a scrarf tied around it when she offers carriage tours in Mt. Gretna.

Carriage Rides

calling Sharon at (717) 665-3180.

The original carriages are restored with red vevet tuffed seats, red trim on the shiny black carriage but now include such modern ammenities as hydraulic brakes, lights, and turn signals.

"I'm fussy about my girls." Albertson said. She shampoos the horses every day before going on the the road.

The carriages are shined to a brilliant sheen with a thin coating of vaseline and let set for three days before being polished.

Sharon said that Percherons are especially good horses to use for carriage rides.

"The horses generally remain calm around loud noises and don't jump around or act crazy. They have great dispositions and are surefooted," she said.

The breed was used primarily in the 1800s to pull wagons over the cobblestone streets. In that era, most families had a surrey but the affluent had a visa vis, which is much more stylish.

It took Sharon a while to harness the horses without referring to a chart to see which strap went in which direction.

"I couldn't have done this without my neighbor," Sharon said of Nancy Landis who with her husband Steve operate a horse boarding farm on adjacent acreage. Nancy taught Sharon horse care and handling, and often assists her in preparing the horses for carriage rides.

A special trailer was built for transporting the carriages and horses.

"My girls are a little large," Sharon said of the necessity to have a custom-made trailer built. Each horse weighs more than a ton.

When the Albersons first moved to Manheim, they searched for a profitable use for the land and came up with raising bisons. Two years ago, they purchased six-month-old bisons. If everything goes as planned, those first purchases will drop calves next spring. It's Sharon's goal to have 30-35 head of bison. The female calves will be used for breeding and the bull calves for purchasing.

To keep flies at a minimum, 45 birdhouses are erected on the fence posts that border the pasture. Mostly bluebirds and Purple Martins have nested in the birdhouses and do an effective job of keeping flies at a minimum.

Ephrata Cloister Offers Evening Tour

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Imagine strolling down shaded pathways through a rustic village filled with art and history. A small rabbit darts across the path as a white robed figure seems to step out of the past to guide you through narrow doorways and into a curious world from long ago. There are fascinating stories to discover and picturesque corners to explore. It's all available with a visit to the historic Ephrata Cloister on Saturday evenings from now and continuing through August 30. Tours begins at the Visitor Center at 5:30, 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30 p.m.

To make the visit to Ephrata even more special, a dinner and tour package is available in cooperation with The Restaurant at Doneckers. Known for its outstanding French cuisine with an innovative American flair, the fine dining available at The Restaurant at Doneckers is a perfect beginning or concluding complement to a visit at the Ephrata Cloister. Reservations are required for this special dinner/tour package and can be made by calling The Restaurant at (717) 738-9501.

Lycoming County Holds Dairy Princess Pageant

MUNCY (Lycoming Co.) — Melanie Harris of Muncy was crowned Lycoming County's Dairy Princess at a pageant held at the Lycoming Mall, Muncy, on Friday evening, June 13. Harris is the daughter of Greg and Stephanie Harris and will be a senior at Montoursville High School this fall. She is active in 4-H, FFA, school, and church activities.

Named alternate Lycoming County Dairy Princess was Melissa Daly of Muncy, daughter of Richard and Wenda Daly. Daly will be a senior at Hughesville High School and enjoys showing her cows in 4-H.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Todd Steward of radio station WILQ, Williamsport. Steward kept the program lively and used his bag of chocolate chip cookies and milk punch to ease the contestants' jitters and nervousness during their introductions and presentations.

Each contestant was required to perform a skit before the large audience gathered at center court of the Mall to watch the pageant. Melanie Harris entertained the audience with an original poem she wrote and also played the part of both the farmer and the farmer's wife on a typical day on the farm. She emphasized all the dairy farmer goes through to bring wholesome and delicious milk every day.

Melissa Daly chose to "talk" with her hand puppet cow "Luck" about milk and its importance in a well balanced diet. Dairy products rich in calcium, vitamins, and minterals turned out to be just what a child needs to keep strong and active through those all important bone building years.

Todd Steward introduced the two dairy maids who will help promote the dairy industry in Lycoming County throughout the year. They are Donnica Greider, Linden, daughter of Jeffery and Donna Grieder, and Shelly Vandine of Muncy, daughter of Wayne and Ruth Vandine.

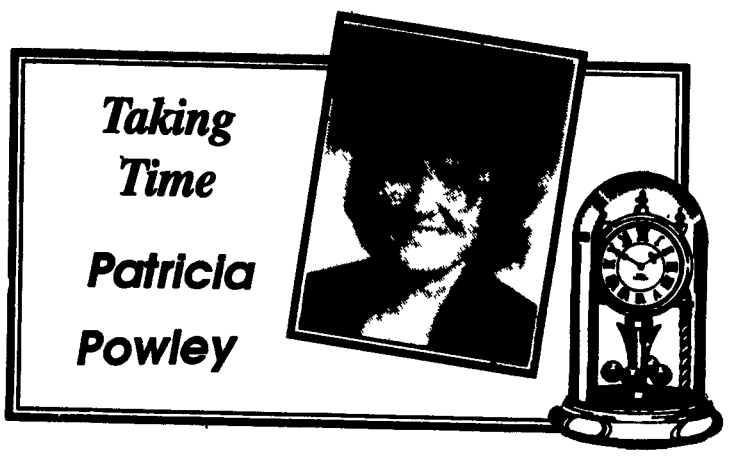
A highlight of the evening was the introduction and farewell speech given by Angela Lovell, Linden, the 1996 Lycoming County Dairy Princess and daughter of Ralph and Marian Lovell.

Last year no one ran for the title of Princess, when Lovell found this out, she thought it was a shame that Lycoming County, the largest county in Pennsylvania, would not be represented. She learned she qualified to be a princess because she is employed by Greider Holstein Farm, where she helps milk 180-200 head of cows. She called the Lycoming County Princess committee and said she would be willing to represent Lycoming County.

Yvonne Peterman, 1995 Lycoming County Dairy Princess and PA Alternate Princess, explained how Lovell, without knowing what the responsibilities of a princess were, agreed to take on the duties even though she had never been involved in dairy promotion before. Peterman praised Lovell for "her hard work, dedication and the enthusiasm she showed as dairy princess and how well she presented herself and represented the county this year."

Lovell emphasized, "It was a real honor and privilege for me to represent the dairy industry of Lycoming County. I just jumped in with both feet and it has been a lot of fun and I want to thank everyone for all their help this year. A very special thank you goes to my parents and sisters for all their support and encouragement. I couldn't have done this without you. The biggest thank you, however, goes to the dairy farmer. The dairy farmer is the most dedicated person I know. Who else is willing to milk cows twice a day, 365 days a year, and works hard to make the dairy industry and agriculture number one in Pennsylvania. I think the dairy farmer deserves a big round of applause for all they do and for making this a year I will never forget."

Lycoming Royalty Includes 1996-97 Lycoming County Dairy Princess Angela Lovell, 1997-98 Lycoming County Dairy Princess Melanie Harris, Alternate Melissa Daly, and Pennsylvania Alternate Lisa Fitch.



Living On A Reduced Income — If You Don't Pay Your Bills

If you miss a payment, you will be faced with increasing pressure to pay. First you'll receive a letter reminding you that you missed a payment and asking you to pay promptly. After that, you may receive a more direct letter demanding payment, or you may get a phone call.

If the bills are still not paid, they will probably be turned over to an independent collection agency. While the agency will try to get you to pay, the law protects you from certain actions. They can't use abusive language or threaten you with violence. They can't call you at unusual hours or threaten criminal prosecution. And they can't discuss your financial situation with others.

Here's what to do if you receive a call from a creditor or a collection agency:

•Identify the caller. Ask the name of the caller. Get the name of the creditor and the name, address and telephone number of the collection agency. Get the exact amount of the account that is claimed to be due. Write down the date and time of each call.

•Don't get angry. Remain calm. Arguments don't settle anything. When you become angry, you may forget to obtain important information. Remember, creditors accused of being angry or abusive may say it was the customer who was angry and abusive.

•Dispute debts in writing. If you believe you don't owe the amount claimed or disagree in other ways, make your reasons known promptly in writing to both the creditor and the collection agency. Request a written statement of your account. Always keep copies of your correspondence for future reference.

Creditor's Options

Creditors can take several kinds of legal action against you. These actions are often written into the sales contract you signed. If you fail to make payments, you will receive letters from a creditor's attorney warning you of intended action.

Here's a list of what a creditor can do if you fail to pay your bills.

•Acceleration — the entire debt is payable at once if you miss a payment. The courts can force you to pay be seizing your property and selling it.

•Repossession — the creditor can seize the item you bought or the property you used as collateral. If the sale of the property brings less than the amount you owe, you still must pay the difference.

•Foreclosure — if you don't make your mortgage payments for at least three months, your lender takes possession of your home and sells it to pay off the loan. You're responsible for the legal fees and difference between the selling price and the amount owed.

All of these actions are very serious and could jeopardize your ability to get credit in the future. You can reduce your chances of being harassed by creditors or collection agencies by working out solutions before.

QUESTION — Four-year-old Victoria Gaffney wants information on raising and caring for a miniature donkey. Because she wants one for a pet, she needs to know what it eats, where it sleeps, etc., and cannot find information in the library. "Maybe I can start a 4-H Club when I'm six or older," she writes.

QUESTION — Help! Mike Cannon's old wooden barn in Oreland is beseiged by carpenter bees that chew perfect circle holes all over the place, especially under the eves. Mike has tried wasp and hornet spray, but it doesn't bother them. The bees are driving Mike crazy because he can hear them chewing but feels helpless to stop them. Any suggestions to make his barn less attractive to these chewing critters or better yet — get rid of them.

Bedford County Dairy Princess Ready To Promote

LINDA WILLIAMS

CLEARVILLE (Bedford Co.) — Lyneice Chamberlain, daughter of Lynn and Genavie Chamberlain of Clearville RD 2, has been crowned the 1997-98 dairy princess in Bedford County.

The petite, pretty, blond, lives on a farm owned by her grandparents, Ralph and Reba Chamberlain. The Chamberlains, including Lynn, farm 450 acres and milk about 100 head of Holstein and Jersey cows.

Lyneice has two Jerseys of her own. "My parents gave me one Jersey cow which had a calf so that is a start toward my own herd," she said.

Making many of her own clothes, Lyneice participates in a local 4-H sewing club.

Lyneice was actually crowned prior to the dairy princess ceremony. "They needed someone to hand out moo cookies at the Raystown Regatta," she explains. Rebecca Carson, the 1996-97 dairy princess, was unavailable.

A senior at Everett Area High School, Lyneice is active in art, on the yearbook staff, and in the band. She is a member of the Everett Grace Brethren Church and this summer will be acting as a child evangelizer around Bedford County.

She plans to attend college but is still indecisive as to her chosen career.

Lynn Chamberlain is the chairman of the Dairy Promotion Committee in Bedford County.

Bedford County Dairy Princess Lyneice Chamberlain is eager to promote the dairy industry.

The Bedford County Dairy Princess will serve at school promotions, kid's carnivals, the local Bedford County Fair, the Morrison's Cove Dairy Show, and at numerous festivals and parades. Since Blair County has not appointed a Dairy Princess, she may also be called upon to participate at their events.

"We feel it gives the girls a lot of confidence to get in front of people and speak for the dairy industry," says Genavie.

Master Gardeners Hold Open House

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — The Penn State Master Gardens of Lancaster County will hold an open house and garden tour on Saturday, July 26, at the Lancaster Farm and Home Center, 1383 Arcadia Road, Lancaster, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Everyone who is interested in home gardening is invited to this event free of charge.

Horticultural educational aspects include the following:

•The demonstration garden which includes annuals, perennials and ornamental shrubs. All plants are identified and printed plant information is available. Master gardeners will be present to answer any questions.

•A new children's area planted with a pizza garden, a root garden, a cutting flower garden and The Three Sisters' garden. Special hands-on programs are scheduled for children ages 6-10. The children, accompanied by a master gardener, will walk through each garden and have the opportunity to learn how to create such a garden for themselves. Related games and stories are planned.

•A plant clinic conducted by master gardener specialists will solve your gardening problems. Bring in a good specimen of disease or insect infested plants with several live insects that are on that plant and we will find a solution for you.

•Informational displays with accompanying handouts demonstrating/teaching: The Ideal Soil (how to create it), Composting (for your own backyard), IPM — Integrated Pest Management (using beneficial insects), and Proper Planting (from annuals to trees).

Lancaster County Cooperative Extension office is privileged to claim over 80 active master gardens, all volunteers, whose mission is to educate the general public in all areas of horticulture. The Open House on July 26 is one of many programs designed to serve that mission.

Among their other community projects are: Hands-on education and assistance for HOMEFIELD's residents to plant and maintain their own gardens; Kids In The Garden, an in-school gardening program for grades 3-5; Juvenile Probation Gardening Program under the direction for Dave Lauver, juvenile probation officer, (teens in this program last year grew, harvested and donated over 600 pounds of vegetables to a local food bank); Urban Gardening Project; Elderly Outreach; annual Garden Symposium on the third Saturday in March; lectures and demonstrations at local nurseries, gardening clubs, gardening events; a featured aspect of the Summer Arts Festival; a research area serving Penn State University; and a horticultural answering service available to home gardeners from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at (717) 394-6851.

Home Canning Basics

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Penn State Cooperative Extension will be offering a two-hour workshop at the Farm & Home Center, 1383 Arcadia Rd., Lancaster, on the latest home canning information on Friday, July 25, form 9:00-11:00 a.m. This overview will include both water bath and pressure canning methods. Emphasis will be placed on the equipment needed, selecting the appropriate canning method for the food product, and planning your canning day. The "Let's Preserve" series of food preservation pamphlets will be available for participants. Call Penn State Extension at (717) 394-6851 for information. Pre-registration is requested. Cost is $3.

HAPPENINGS

Conodoguinet 4-H Sheep Club

On June 7, the Conodoguinet 4-H Sheep Club was held at the home of Mark Myers. The meeting was called to order by president John Witter. The pledge of allegiance was led by Sonya Rinker, followed by Linnea Hoover leading the 4-H pledge.

Under old business, Sonya Rinker gave a report on the benefit auction. Under new business, each member of the club has to give a speech at the July meeting. The club was given Shippensburg fair papers to enter their projects.

After the meeting, Jerry Walker gave a demonstration on how to fit a lamb and how to show a lamb. The club also did a practice stockman's contest.

Cumberland 4-H Club

The Cumberland County 4-H Livestock Club met May 27 at the Monroe Township Building.

Members who helped with the County 4-H and FFA Benefit Auction were thanked for their support.

More than 400 items were auctioned off at this year's sale. Shippensburg Fair entries were distributed. For more information, contact Dianne Conaway.

The county weighed in a total of 139 market animals at the weigh-in. The weights of the animals were used in a workshop on rate of gain. Teen leaders helped young members calculate rate of gain. Suzie Leib and Dianne Conaway handed out 4-H year pins and certificates to members at the close of the meeting.

On June 16, the Livestock Club met at Pine Haven Farm for a beef and goat showmanship and fitting workshop. Bobby Davidson clipped a steer for first year beef members, and Michelle Cornman demonstrated the proper way to show a steer. Bill Leib did the showmanship and fitting workshop for goats.

Following the workshops, the livestock club had a brief meeting. Members who ordered club shirts and hats received their orders. The club was informed of the Shippensburg Fair schedule and the livestock roundup. Roundup will be held Aug. 3 and 4 at the Shippensburg Fairgrounds.

Picture Perfect 4-H Photography Club

The new Picture Perfect 4-H Photography Club was started this winter by leaders Dawn Marcine of Whitehouse Station and Susan Sklodowsky of Frenchtown. The club held elections at the February meeting. The officers are president, Jessie Friga of Annandale; vice president and corresponding secretary, Julie Williamson of Annandale; secretary, Victoria Koenigkramer of Neshanic; treasurer, Grace Grillo of Frenchtown; and reporter, Rachel Savicki of Clinton.

Following the elections Chris Sebes showed the club a variety of cameras and explained how they worked.

At the March meeting, John Hester, a photographer from the Hunterdon County Democrat, spoke about black and white photography and pinhole cameras. In April the club received and discussed a handout on camera viewing, automatic exposure, and automatic focus. In May the club toured Moto Photo in Whitehouse and plans a trip on July 13 to the Hunterdon County Arobretum on Route 31.

Typically meetings consist of current business, a speaker or presentation on some aspect of photography, and a time when members get tips on how to take better pictures. Club activities also include field trips and community service. Topics covered so far include camera types and how they work, black and white photography and pinhole cameras, camera viewing automatic exposure, auto focus, subject framing, and horizon.

Meetings are held the first Tuesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the Extension Center on Route 31, Flemington. The club is open to youth in grades 4-12. For more information, call (908) 788-1340 or (908) 788-1341.

Locust Hill Community Club

The May club meeting started with the Pledge of Allegiance and the 4-H Pledges, led by Heather Uhlig. The members discussed the May bake sale and once again tried to set a date for a cemetery cleanup day.

Several of the club officers had attended the 4-H Officer's Training in April and reported on the event. The club planned to go to a Binghamton Mets baseball game in June — they had reserved seats behind first base. The summer picnic was discussed and it will be at either Hawkins Pond Park or the Colwell residence.

Since 4-H Week, with all its promotion at the schools, the club has grown to 26 members. Rosi Hibbard, 4-H coordinator, attended the meeting to discuss 4-H and presented each member with a pin.

The next meeting was held on June 9, again with Greg Colwell presiding. The members decided to have their summer picnic and hayride on July 12 at Hawkins Pond Park at 6 p.m. Everyone will bring a dish to pass. The 4-H Shooting Sports Fun Day was held on May 31 and Megan Clough had attended.

Members who were getting ready to go to Camp Brule are Stacy, James, Tasha, Erica, Misty, Heather, Greg, Megan and the club leader, Sue Colwell.

4-H One Day Camp is July 22 at Harford Fairgrounds. The Locust Hill Club members finished their club project of bowling this month. Members are now working on individual projects.

Clovers Community Club

The May organizational club meeting was held at the Silver Lake Firehouse. This meeting was held to elect officers for the current year.

Officers are president, Colleen Walsh; vice president, Courtney Parvin; secretary, Lisa Carden; treasurer, Laura Carden; song leader, Briana Young; game leaders, Chelsey Parvin and Lisa Harasymczuk; news reporter, Peter Capwell.

At the next meeting the members will continue to work on their community club project, which is "Food, Fitness, and Fun." It will be the first official meeting with new officers.

Hunters Share Bounty

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — The Governor's Mansion was the setting recently for the Pennsylvania Association of Regional Food Banks recognition of food donation programs striving to eliminate hunger in Pennsylvania.

More than 100 hundred people attended this event hosted by Michele Ridge, First Lady of the Commonwealth. Kathy Schweiker, wife of the Lt. Governor, assisted in the awards presentation.

"Hunters Sharing the Harvest," now in its seventh year of providing donated venison to hungry Pennsylvanians has attracted the support of other groups including Blue Mountain Chapter of Safari Clubs International. With the support of Pennsylvania Hunters and Regional Food Banks, more than 80,000 pounds of venison is channeled to persons through local food banks annually.

Recent legislative action has heightened the ability of hunters to donate their extra venison. Through the efforts of State Rep. Matt Baker (R Tioga County) amendments were added to the donated food limited liability act. This legislation permits lawfully taken wildlife to be donated to and distributed by charitable organizations that run food kitchens. It also ensures liability proteciton for groups who distribute food (including wildlife) to poor individuals and families.

Pennsylvania food banks say they never have enough meat products to fill the need. Tim Whelan, President of the Regional Food Banks, expressed the interest of the food banks by saying, "The presentation of this award shows the support our group has for the extra venison hunters provide through "Hunters Sharing the Harvest."

Father's Day Horse Show At Grazing Acres Farm

It was beautiful weather for Father's Day, and the horses and ponies attending the Sunday, June 15, open schooling show at Grazing Acres Farm in New London seemed affected by the weather and rode particularly well.

The grounds featured several new fences, including one jump into and out of the ring and one outside of the ring for the hunter horses. This is the beginning of a planned "outside course" which is scheduled for competition by the Sept. 7 Grazing Acres Show.

Pleasure classes, with cash prizes for three places, were hotly contested, but none of the contenders could displace Torpaze's Tribute, ridden by Maisy Grassie of Unionville, who placed first in all four Pleasure classes.

Other cash prizes went to Trouble Sue, ridden by Adrian Farrar of Bridleshire, Newark, Del.; Caserio Tsalturi, ridden by Sara Wilson of East Fallowfield; Magnanimous Teddy, ridden by Audrey Saunders of Ebenezer Church Road, Rising Sun, Md.; and Ginger, ridden by Leslie McFadien of Coatesville.

Susan Megee of Rising Sun, Md., was the judge for the show. Ringmaster was Jimmy Healy of New London. Carol Shortlidge of Nova Lane, West Grove, is secretary for the show series and Sue Wilson of East Fallowfield is the series announced.

Winners in individual classes follow.

Why Be A 4-H Volunteer?

ELLIE BARD South Ebensburg and Lamb Club Leader

At times, being a volunteer 4-H leader can be very frustrating and overwhelming, but I recently received a thank you gift from a group of 4-H members that made me realize that I am making a difference, and they are learning!

I am a project leader for the South Ebensburg Sewing Club, which currently has 13 members. At the Fashion Revue event in June, the group presented me with a token of appreciation. This may not sound like anything out of the ordinary, but the gift itself was quite unique. The girls had managed to work together to construct a cotton print vest for me. What was unique was that each member had taken a role in putting the vest together — from selecitng the pattern to cutting it out, finishing the seams, understitching, pressing, etc. Each person had to complete their part of the project in order to pass it on to the next member. These girls were all pressed for time, as they were frantically trying to finish up their own sewing projects, but they managed to put extra time and effort into this special project, all under secrecy.

This gift showed me much more than appreciation. I saw "leadership" from the oldest member who came up with the idea and organized the group. I saw "teamwork" as each person did their part to pull this off. I saw "pride" and "enthusiasm" as they handed me the gift and told me what portion they had worked on. And I also saw proud parents who were amazed at what the girls had created together. I realized something that day — they are using their "Heads," their "Hearts," their "Hands" — they are learning good things through 4-H.

Former New York State Dairy Princess Jonelle Smith applies a strawberry mask in publicity photos, as part of a press kit featuring dairy products in beauty aids. Mailed to all daily and weekly newspapers in ADADC's marketing area, the kit explained how milk "does a body good" inside and out.

Get Beautiful With Milk

SYRACUSE, NY — We all know milk does a body good on the inside, but on the outside too? It's true. Milk is just as good for the outside of your body as it is for the inside. In an effort to inform consumers of the usefulness of milk as an ingredient in beauty products, the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council, Inc. (ADADC), recently teamed up Philip B., Los Angeles salon owner and author of Beauty Blends, a recipe book for the body. In New York City, Philip B. promoted milk recipes on television programs including FOX's Good Day NY, News 12 Westchester, and Long Island, and on the national TV Food Network. He demonstrated how to easily make moisturizing facials as well as milk bath recipes for puffy eyes and tired feet.

ANSWER — Cindy Eshelman was interested in any unwanted healthy animals that someone might want to give away to a good home. Thanks to Tracie Ebersole, Waynesboro, who writes that she has two dogs. One is a female dog, spayed, with all shots, and license. She is an outside dog a little over a year old. The dog is very friendly, a little bit hyper, but, with some work from someone who has time and patience would probably result in a well behaved dog. She also has an approximate 2-year-old stray male Collie and Golden Retriever mix. The dog is very friendly, housebroken, inside dog. She has a current license and rabies shot for it, but it would need to have the remainder of the shots and also be neutered. If Ms. Eshelman is not interested in the dogs, someone else may be. Call Tracie at her work number (717) 375-2381.

PUBLIC AUCTION
SAT., JULY 26, 1997
9:00 A.M.
FARMETTE, ANTIQUES & COLLECTIBLES, HOUSEHOLD ITEMS, FARM MACHINERY AND RELATED ITEMS

Auction will be held 3 miles north of McAlisterville, Juniata County, just off of Rt. 35. Turn at Graybill's Hatchery, follow auction direction signs.

15 ACRE M/L FARMETTE selling at 12 NOON

This 15 acre farmette, located in Fayette Township, is perfect in size and location for the truck or weekend farmer. It is convenient to churches and schools and has easy access to Rt. 322. It lays mostly level and offers great development potential with lots of road frontage.

There is a 2-story wood framed farmhouse with a kitchen, dining room, living room, 1/2 bath and laundry room on the first floor and 3 bedrooms and bath on the second floor. There is also a basement, attached summer kitchen, and a nice size front porch. There is a drilled well and on lot septic system.

A nice size bank barn has storage above for crops and machinery and lots of room for livestock or machinery below. Other outbuildings include a chicken house, concrete block milk house, and other misc. farm implement sheds.

If you have been looking for a small farm with a convenient location, that will always maintain its value, don't miss seeing this one on these show dates, Saturday, June 28 from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. and Tuesday evening, July 8 from 5 p.m.-8 p.m. or call for an appointment at (717) 463-9256 or 463-2842.

MILK PRODUCTION HIGHER SOMATIC CELL COUNT LOWER AS MORE DAIRYMEN TEST FORMULA-M

As I am writing this, there are hundred and hundreds more Dairymen testing Formula M. The results are trickling in. By the time you read this, we may have the final results. I have been testing Formula M for years and all the results have exceeded my expectations in appetite improvement; higher energy level; giving more milk; cows (even the extremely difficult or next to impossible ones) getting pregnant on the first breeding.

AND NOW!!! Dairymen everywhere are telling me that the Somatic Cell Count goes down when they feed Formula M. Over and over, I am hearing that the Somatic Cell Count goes way down. Dairymen tell me that they have tried other products and that they thought they saw some benefits, but the same Dairymen tell me that they see very dramatic differences almost immediately when using Formula M. Dairymen say they see a vast improvement in energy level and appetite. They say that they can see a significant increase in milk in a week to ten days after starting on Formula M. Some Dairymen say their cows average 5 pounds more milk per cow, per day. The last reports I am waiting for are on Somatic Cell Count. They keep coming in and they keep verifying what we have been told many times before, that the Somatic Cell Count goes way down when feeding Formula M

If I had known all this before I set the price, (8¢ per cow, per day) I might have charged more. After all, it looks like most Dairymen will make an extra $1.00 per cow, per day.

Formula M is a powder and it comes in a 5 gallon plastic bucket. Feed Formula M according to the directions on the label, only ½ ounce per cow per day. (Formula M is very concentrated. ½ ounce per day is all they need). You can put Formula M in the TMR, you can put it in your grain mix or if you prefer, you can top dress Formula M. All you need to do to get Formula M is call one of the numbers below. We ship the same day by UPS. Make the check payable to FRANK LAMPLEY and give it to the driver when he delivers.

A 5 gallon bucket is enough for about 40 cows for one month and costs only $92.00 (I pay freight). Formula M is completely free of drugs and made by the same people who make Vitamix.

There is one question that keeps coming up over and over, "How long do I have to keep feeding the Formula M?" "Forever?" The answer is, "Only as long as you want to keep making the extra dollar per day, per cow."

FORAGE GRASS SPECIES— WHAT GOES AROUND, COMES AROUND

Dr. Marvin Hall
Penn State

Recently, while I was reading through some farm magazines and research reports from New Zealand, something jumped out at me that left me shaking my head. I thought that you may find it equally as interesting.

For several years, farmers in the United States who are rotationally grazing their animals have looked to New Zealand for the latest and best technology in grazing. Forage species that have been developed in New Zealand (e.g. chicory, brassicas, plantain, and many perennial ryegrass varieties) have been purchased "like hot cakes" here in the U.S. Several of these forage species have been advertised as crops that will continue to grow during our hot and dry "summer slump" period, and indeed several of them will.

However, New Zealand researchers and farmers are not convinced they have found the best solution to slow pasture growth during the summer. Consequently, they are evaluating some exotic forage species for their summer growth potential. The bulk of this work involves three species that we would be familiar with: orchardgrass, smooth bromegrass and reed canarygrass! That's right — three grass species that we have all around Pennsylvania.

This is what has me shaking my head. While some Pennsylvania farmers are killing their orchardgrass pastures and planting new forage species from New Zealand, the New Zealand farmers are killing their pastures and planting orchardgrass! Isn't it amazing? What goes around, comes around.

Waikato Milking Systems Available

MADISON, Wis. — Waikato milking systems featuring complete milking packages are now available through Bou-Matic dealers in North America.

Waikato miling systems turn old stanchion barn milking systems into high throughput, more cost effective, and less labor intensive milking parlors.

According to Jack Hippen, Waikato sales manager, "Waikato stalls are all supported from overhead. This allows for totally open access to the cow's udder for claw application. This is much safer and convenient for the operator. It also makes a very neat installation and can be accommodated in most barns."

With Waikato milking systems, the cows enter and exit the same row and place themselves at a 70-degree angle according to the placement of the exit gate. The Swing-Over System features fast throughput, so no splash guard is required. "The cows are in and out so fast, there's no time to leave anything behind," said Lee Zoellner, Waikato district manager.

For cow traffic control, Waikato offers a patented counter balanced gate called the Pendulum. According to Zoellner, "The Pendulum Exit Gagte is our most popular exit gate. It's simple to operate, totally mechanical." These gates require no air compressor or special hook-ups. "They're very easy to open and close," said Zoellner.

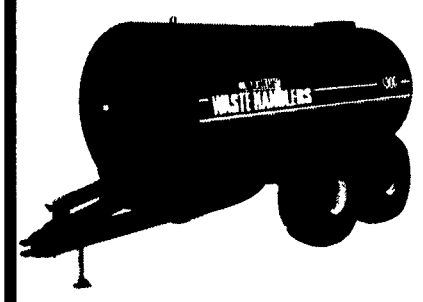
VAN DALE
WASTE HANDLERS

LAGOON PUMPS

Van Dale sets a new standard for quality, performance and ease of operation with its advanced line of Series 5000 Lagoon Pumps. Each model is built with the strength, power and reliability to completely agitate any size liquid manure lagoon fast. The Series 5000 Lagoon Pumps are equipped with features that minimize the hassle and maximize the pump's operating life. And your choice of three models lets you operate in everything from shallow straight wall pits to the deepest sloped wall lagoons.

SPREADER TANKS

Van Dale's new line of Spreader Tanks is designed to spread better, service easier and last longer than any other competitive spreaders.



*Warranty applies to original purchaser, provided the tank is used for non-commercial animal waste handling only. See dealer for details.

Van Dale's superior strength starts with 1/4" steel plate construction on tank shell, domed heads and baffles. Tank seams overlap and are fully welded for extra durability. Each unit is completely sand-blasted followed by a coat of rust-inhibiting primer. It's then finished with two coats of chemical resistant paint. The final result! A line of Spreader Tanks built to last.

In fact, we're so certain our tanks are built to last, we back them up with a comprehensive 10-year pro-rated tank body warranty* and a full 5-year undercarriage warranty.*

HATFIELD'S NEW GRADING PROGRAM

Hatfield Quality Meats goes on-line with their new Autofom technology July 21.

A fresh payment program accompanies this modern technology. Many folks, including those at Hatfield, have been anxiously awaiting this day. Others, not knowing what to expect, have been taking a wait-and-see approach.

What follows is not a detailed description but, instead, some comments on the high points of the new program.

Is It A Good Program?

It's a good program. There are no traps, but there are a ton of changes.

In fact, the Autofom is the simplest part. The grade and weight program carries only a few remnants from the previous system. Don't try to absorb it all with the first kill sheet that you get back.

Will You Be Better Or Worse Off Than Before?

That depends on the type of hogs that you have, how closely you have them sorted, and the current market price. We can say that the fatter hogs will receive less; the leaner hogs will receive more. But because there are a lotof variables, it's difficult to say how much less and how much more.

When you get your first grading sheet, there won't be a comparison between the two programs.

Things That Are Different

•The machine. In the former program a grader used the Fat-O-Meat'er, anoptical probe with a hollow tube, to measure fat and loin depth at about the10th rib. These two numbers were used to predict percent lean cuts.

The new program uses the Autofom, an ultrasonic device made by the same company.Sixteen transducers take more than 2,000 readings on the carcass. Roughly 100 readings will be used to predict percent primals (similar to percent lean cuts) and a variety of other items. The Autofom is stationary and has no moving parts and no operator.

•Wider weight range. The former program paid top price for carcasses weighing between 161 and 200 pounds. The new program expands the weight range to 160-205. This is one of the widest weight ranges in the country.

•Premium weight range. This is an add-on. Again, there will be no weight sort penalty unless carcasses weigh less than 160 or more than 205 pounds. But carcasses weighing between 175 and 185 pounds will receive a $.35/cwt weight sort bonus.

With this approach, you now have two weight-sort incentives. One incentive will encourage you to keep the hogs in the standard weight range.

The second incentive is the bonus you receive for any carcasses in the premium weight range. I'm anxious to see how successful producers will be at hittingthis target. It will obviously take some effort, but I suspect producers who now achieve average weight sort penalties less than $.20/cwt will be up to the challenge.

•Sliding scale weight sort Penalties. On the old program, there was a set price for each eight-pound increment above or below the desirable weight range. For example, hogs between 153 and 160 pound received a $2.69/cwt discount. new program, each pound below desirable weight range will be discounted1.25 percent. If the carcass weighs 150 pounds, it's 10 pound too light. For a carcass price of $70/cwt, the discount will be 10 pounds X 1.25% X $70/cwt = $8.75/cwt.

Multiply the discount price times the carcass weight to get the discount per hog ($8.75/cwt X 150 pounds = $13.13). Heavy carcasses will be discounted .5% per pound from 206-230 pounds. Carcasses over 230 lbs will be discounted 35%.

The downside to this program is that hogs well out of the 160-205 pound bracket will be hammered more heavily than before. But a positive aspect is that the discount will be less when market prices are lower.

•Lean percent prediction. The former program reported percent lean cuts (the weight of the closely trimmed hams, loins, and shoulders as a percentage of chilled carcass weight). The new program will report primal percent. Primal percent still reflects the proportion of hams, loins, and shoulders, but the type of ham used in the new prediction formula is a skinned and de-fatted ham. That makes the primal percentage slightly lower than the former lean cut percentage on the same hog.

•Sliding scale bonuses and discounts. The former program had bonus and discount "intervals." Above 56 percent lean cuts you'd get a bonus, but the bonus came in jumps. For example, between 55.50 and 56.49 percent lean cuts, you received base price. The next price interval was 56.50-57.49 percent and so forth. So you could find hogs with slightly different backfat depths getting the same price. On the new program, the price will change every time primal percent changes.

•Primal reimbursement. Just like you have target weight ranges for hogs, Hatfield has target weight ranges for the primal cuts (ham, loins, shoulder,bellies). For example, the target weight range for a loin is 15-18 pounds. If you sell a hog that is too heavy or too light, it's still possible to have some primals in these target weight ranges.

The Autofom predicts the weightsof the primals for each carcass. If some of the primals fall into the targetweight ranges, you'll be reimbursed for part of the weight sort discount.

•Discounts for damaged and undesirable carcasses. There are now four categories: major damage, cull value, cryptorchids and visible boars, and condemned. Carcasses with major damage receive a discount of $8/cwt (slightly higher than the discount on the old program, but major discounted carcasses are now eligible for primal cut premiums). Cull value carcasses have multiple major damages and receive only one half base value. Any carcass with testicles will be receive only one third of base value. While this is clearly below boar market value and significantly less than prices paid for boars under the old program, Hatfield is sending an obvious message that they don't want these pigs. If you have an occasional cryptorchid pig (undescended testicles), make sure he's identified so he can be marketed somewhere else.

•The report. The report has a different front-page format. It's easier to follow, and provides good summary information. The printout of individual carcasses on the back sheets are listed lightest to heaviest, and show the bonus and discounts on a per hog basis, rather than per hundredweight. Also, the fat depth readings are now in millimeters, rather than inches.

Things That Are The Same

•Market price calculation. Same as before, except for the day that the market price is entered. In the former program, the price was entered on the sameday. Now, the price from the previous day will be used. This will enable producers to find out prices sooner and allow Hatfield to process checks earlier.

•Standard yield. Still 74.4 percent. Divide the live market price by the standard yield to get the base carcass price. No changes here except that standard yield is now called the price conversion factor.

Final Comments

•Genetic selection. Unlike the old program, which reported two measurements (fat and loin depth), the new program provides none of the measurements used in the prediction formulas.

Like any grade and weight program, selecting for lean hogs will provide the greatest benefit. But, at the moment, it would difficult to design a genetic program to maximize payment on the Autofomsystem.

This October (and many Octobers to come) we will be measuring several hundred carcasses for the Keystone International Livestock Exposition. With that information, we'll be able to match up conventional measurements (fat depth, loin eye area) with pricing on the Autofom system. That will provide useful data that can potentially be used in genetic selection programs.

•A positive note. At the informational meeting I attended in Adamstown on June 26, Phil Clemens, president and CEO of Hatfield Quality Meats, provided a few remarks. He gave some well-deserved praise to Jeff Arner for his efforts in developing this program. He also talked about a recent acquisition of a meat processor and the importance of reinvesting into the company.

But the most significant comment he made was that Hatfield has set a goal of growing 15 percent per year. If they meet that goal, you'll feel the effects, which will probably outweigh any of the program changes just described.

We need our packers not only to stay healthy, we need them to grow.

Apply For Fuel Tax Refund

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The state Board of Finance and Revenue has issued a reminder to farmers announcing that the deadline for applying for a refund on the taxes paid on liquid fuels is Sept. 30.

Farmers are exempted from liquid fuels taxes on fuel used for actual farming practices, but generally end up paying them to the state first and then applying to get a refund a year later.

The tax year runs from July 1 to June 30, every year. Therefore, for this year, refunds are for taxes paid on fuel purchased between July 1, 1996 and June 30, 1997.

The Board of Finance and Revenue actually made a similar announcement May 30, but at that time the announcement included an error — it had wrongly reported that the amount of fuel tax had been increased from 12 cents per gallon to 15.5 cents per gallon as of May 1.

The excise tax has remained at 12 cents per gallon and that is the rate at which refunds will be made.

Those who have filed claims within the past two years are to have application forms automatically mailed to them.

Others, and those who don't receive an application in the mail, must obtain one.

Forms are available from Lynne Vergot, Supervisor, Board of Finance and Revenue, Room 500C Finance Building, Harrisburg, PA 17120 or call (717) 787-6534.

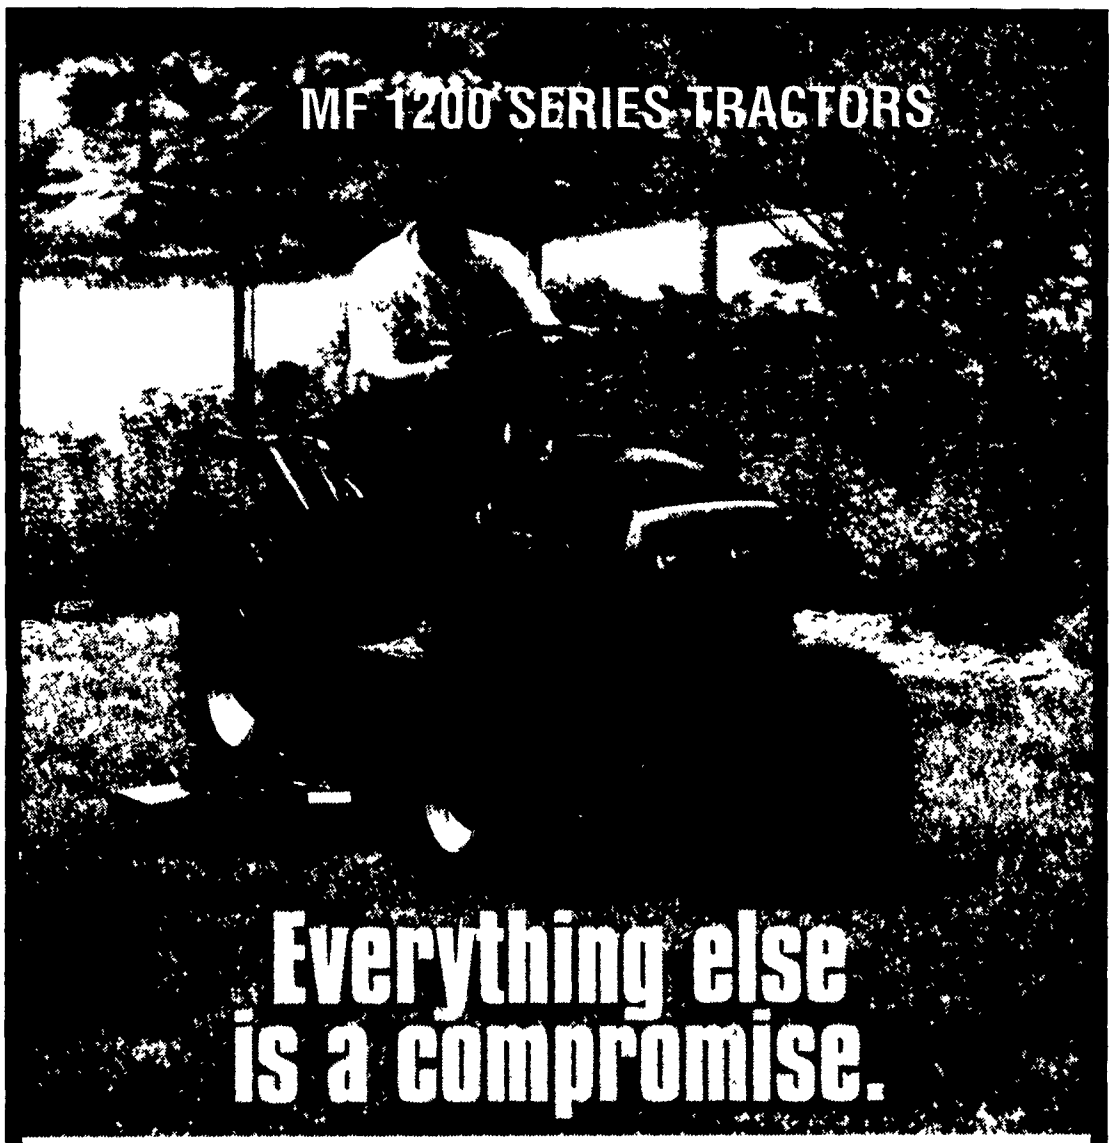
In order for a claim application to be properly processed, it must be accompanied by either the actual paid receipts, copies of paid receipts, or a statement from a dealer showing the name of the purchaser (the person requesting the refund), the dates, the number of gallons purchased, and verification that the state tax has been paid.



Other tractors are 'almost good enough' to get your work done. Other tractors are 'almost right' for the job. You don't have to settle for less. MF 1200 Series Tractors are what you need.

SOONER OR LATER...YOU'LL CHOOSE A SUNFLOWER

HUNDREDS OF YOUR NEIGHBORS ALREADY HAVE CHISEL PLOWS · LAND FINISHERS · COULTER RIPPERS · DISKS · FIELD CULTIVATORS ASK ABOUT OUR 3 YEAR WARRANTIES

THE REASONS ARE OBVIOUS

DURABILITY: Disk Harrows with 1¾" dia. axles Built Heavier More Weight for Better Performance

DEALER SERVICE SUPPORT: Binkley & Hurst Bros., Inc. with Experience to meet Your Needs.

RESALE VALUE: Strong SUNFLOWER Resale At Farm Auctions Is A Sign That Sunflower Has What Farmers Are Looking For - And Is Just Another Good Reason Why More Farmers Are Switching To Sunflower Than To Any Other Brand!

SUNFLOWER

5000 Series Field Cultivators range in sizes from 18' to 37' on 3-section models

They may be ordered with the Coil Tine Harrow attached or, the attachment may be added to units already in the field. Either way, the results are well worth the extra cost of a Sunflower Coil Tine Harrow Attachment.

The narrow transport width of the Sunflower 5000 Series Field Cultivator is accomplished quickly, easily and safely from the tractor seat. Wings fold over center to provide maximum stability and excellent road clearance.

SUNFLOWER

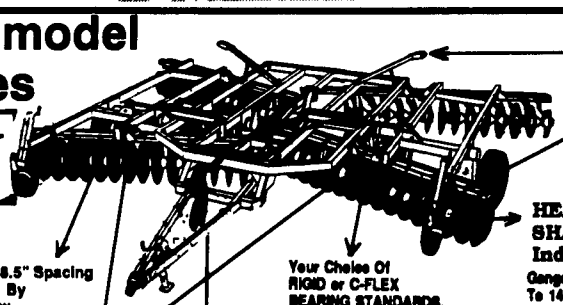
Series 6000 LAND FINISHER

The RIGHT combination in one-pass tillage. The New Sunflower 6000 Series Land Finisher performs three operations in one pass. It discs, cultivates, and finishes the seedbed all at once.

Working widths from 13 to 37 feet.

RockFlex model 1200 series

Check Out The Rest - Then Buy The Best! SUNFLOWER



TRANSPORT WIDTH On Wing Units Up To 24'2" Working Width Is A SAFE 12'4" Transport.

3 YEAR WARRANTY On Triple Lip Sealed Trunnion Mounted, Regreasable BEARINGS

WING GAUGE WHEELS Eliminate Gouging

HEAVIEST AXLE SHAFTS In The Industry - 1¾" Dia.

BLADES: ¼"x22" or ¼"x24" On 8.5" Spacing 3 Sided Blade Prevents Erosion By Eliminating A Continuous Furrow

Your Choice Of RIGID or C-FLEX BEARING STANDARDS.

Gangs Are Hydraulically Torqued To 1400 Lbs. & Spring-Loaded To Eliminate Loosening, Wear And Breakage.

DOUBLE OFFSET DESIGN Provides Maximum Leveling Without A Middle Buster Or Center Tooth

SELF-LEVELING HITCH Maintains Level Setting Regardless Of Desired Depth Or Tillage Application

Go from field working to highway transport in seconds Transport width on 18'-21'-24' units are only 12'4" barely the width of your dual wheels, leaving plenty of room for traffic to pass Transport height is within legal limits

The King of the Hill Rock Flex heavy duty cut - plow level to finish with perfection!

Available in sizes 19', 22', 25', 28', 32', 35', up to 45'. With more weight per foot penetration up to 570 lbs. and would you believe this heavy duty machine will level to perfection where most competitive brands won't

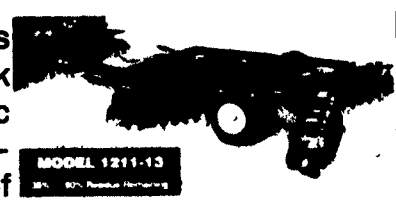
MODEL 1211

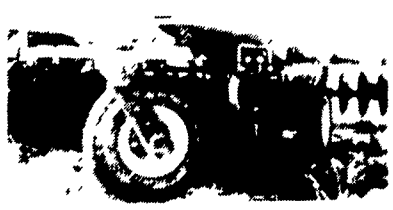
If your tillage program requires the use of a disc harrow, look no further. Sunflower disc harrows are proven performers. The super-stars of the Sunflower lineup! Try one today.



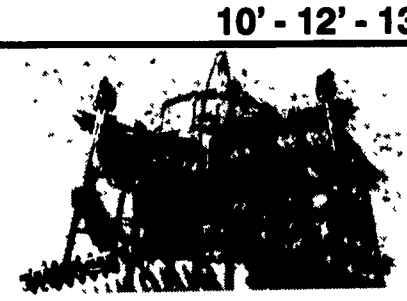
Sizes Available
10' - 12' - 13' and 15 foot

The Secret to a Level Field is the SUNFLOWER.

GAUGE WHEELS



A trademark on all flexible Sunflower Discs is Front-Mounted Gauge Wheels. This Important Feature Prevents the Front Gangs Of The Wing Frame From Gouging, Buckling or Cutting Deeper Than The Other Gangs, Promoting A Level Ridge Or Furrow-Free Field. The Heavy Duty Gauge Wheel Features A 5-Bolt Hub And 8.00x10 Ply Tire & Tube.



DOUBLE OFFSET DESIGN

Eliminates center ridging while cutting the entire width at an even depth. Self-leveling hitch provides fore & aft leveling at any working depth.

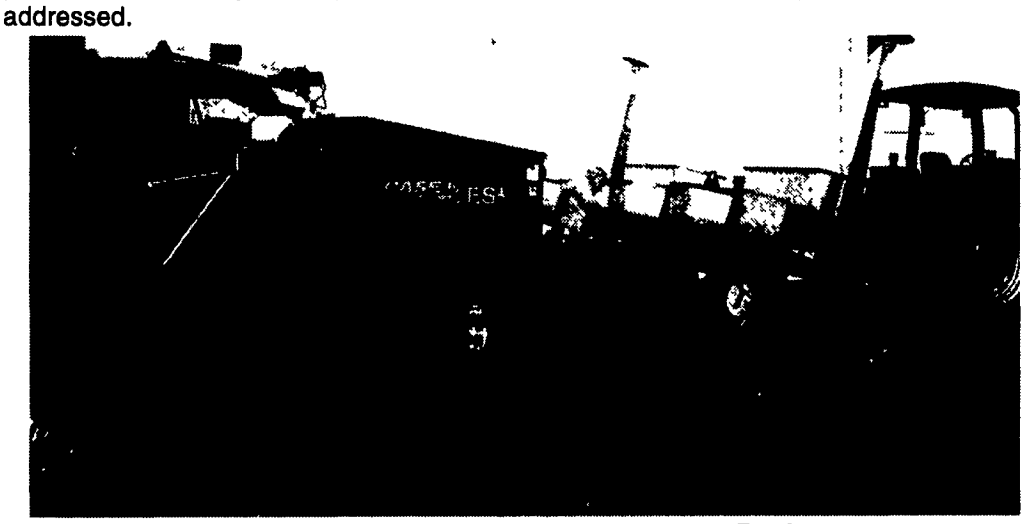
Now Is The Time To Schedule Our Uptime Summer Service Program For Your Planter Or Drill

Binkley & Hurst Bros. planter technicians are through the Spring startup rush - poised, ready to evaluate and service your planter. In the past, many of this areas' best corn and bean growers have taken advantage of our Winter Uptime Planter Service. This Summer we are proposing a different approach.

SUMMERTIME UPTIME PLANTER SERVICE!

It really makes sense if you take a minute to think about it. In winter, your planter is buried behind other equipment in an unheated equipment shed or barn floor. Any questions or problems concerning use of your planter this spring are still fresh in your mind and can be addressed.



30 Point Checkup Improves Your Planters Performance

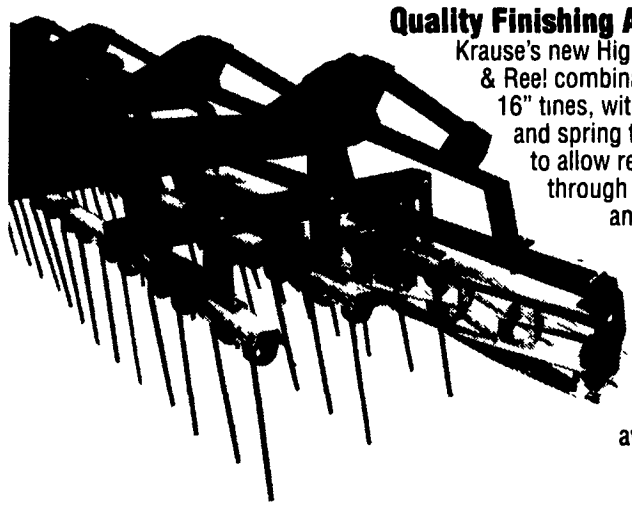
XT 270
X-Tra tough describes the new XT 270 Shanks! With a 270 lb. point load, 10" trip height and 3/4" thick, edge formed design, these shanks rip through tough unworked soils. XT 270 shanks can be mounted ahead of the field cultivator shanks for serious minimum till work.

2-Piece K-Tine
Massive 1/2" x 3" upper leaf spring and an edge formed 5/8" thick lower shank provide a 180 lb. point load measured at working depth. Compare that to the light 110-130 lb. class shanks that equip most competitive models. Knowledgeable farmers recognize that Krause's edge-formed shanks greatly reduce shank marks, reduce draft and preserve more residue.

The new Landsman XT offers exclusive features that put it in a class by itself!

- 25" underframe clearance and 6 ranks of shanks provide outstanding residue clearance.
- Only Krause offers one rank of rugged XT 270 shanks up front to break up tough soils, followed by five ranks of heavy-duty 2-Piece K-Tines.
- Or, equip the Landsman XT with all six ranks of 2-Piece K-Tines, the ideal conservation tillage shank!
- Shank spacing choice of 9" or 7" to match your residue management needs.
- New High-Residue rear attachments include 3-row tine/reel and 3 row spike/reel combinations for a firm, level seedbed.



Quality Finishing Attachments
Krause's new High-Residue 3-Row Tine & Reel combination features 7/16" x 16" tines, with each row mounted and spring tensioned individually to allow residue to "walk" through without "bunching and dragging." This attachment can also be ordered without the finishing reel. Hi-Residue 3/Row spike/reel, 4-row tine and 5-row spike harrows also available.

NEW IDEA
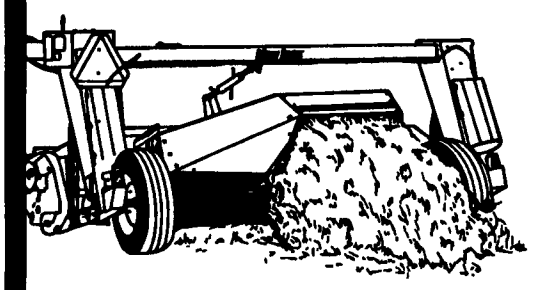
BUILT FOR THE BOTTOM LINE

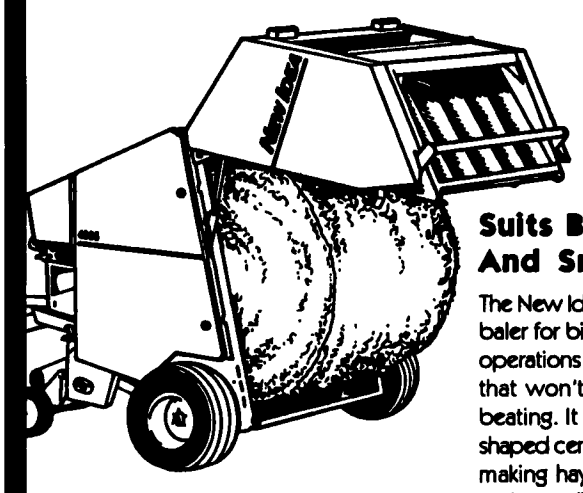
Maximize Your Yield Potential...



Nothing outperforms the New Idea® 5209 Disc Mower Conditioner. Its high-speed cutterbar glides through fields with ease, even in extreme conditions. And its reliable design keeps you mowing and conditioning year after year.

For A Price That's Minimal.

Quality From The Inside Out.



Suits Big Operations And Small Budgets.

The New Idea® 4865 is the perfect baler for big farming and custom operations – available for a price that won't give your budget a beating. It creates a unique star-shaped center that dries internally, making hay more palatable and easier to digest.

See what New Idea® equipment and LS&E can do for you... Today!

MORE CONTROL

DESIGNED FOR TOTAL PERFORMANCE

The superior design and greater flexibility of the New Holland Model 900 put you in control. This forage harvester is designed to meet the needs of big-crop producers. You get capacity, reliability and efficiency.

- The massive 21-inch cutterhead uses hardened alloy knives with tungsten edges for a uniform chop.
- Under-knife baffles reduce crop carry-over and increase chopping capacity.
- Exclusive flip-up feedrolls let you inspect the shearbar and smooth roll scraper.
- The electric clutch provides immediate response and positive control of reversing gearbox.
- Optional Metalert® III protects equipment and livestock,

Farm Link Program Becomes Nonprofit

HARRISBURG (Centre Co.) — The Center for Rural Pennsylvania takes pride in announcing the progression of the Pennsylvania Farm Link Program into an independent, nonprofit organization.

Established in 1994, Farm Link is a program designed to help match farmers planning for retirement, and other interested landholders, with those hoping to work into farm ownership or long-term leasing. Recognizing that helping more people get into farming is an essential component of revitalizing Pennsylvania's rural and farming communities, the Center for Rural Pennsylvania, in collaboration with the Rodale Institute, Pennsylvania Farmer magazine, and other interested agricultural organizations, created the Farm Link Program.

As part of its commitment, the Center for Rural Pennsylvania (a non-partisan, bicameral legislative agency serving as the primary focal point for rural policy research and developemnt within the Pennsylvania General Assembly) acted as an incubator for the initial three-year start-up phase of the Farm Link Program. Utilizing the offices and resources of the Rural Center, Farm Link has, to date, completed and facilitated about 30 matches of exiting and entering farmers in all areas of the commonwealth. More than 500 interested participants are registered in Farm Link's database, with more than 1,200 inquiries received from around the United States.

In addition, 12 workshops have been conducted with more than 1,000 attendees seeking assistance for farm transitions. A related area of technical assistance provided by Farm Link is that of farm succession, or passing on a farm to the next generation — 40 families have participated thus far.

Now at the conclusion of its successful stewardship under the Center for Rural Pennsylvania, the program has grown into an independent, nonprofit organization: Pennsylvania Farm Link, Inc. Representative Sheila Miller (R-Berks), chairman of the Rural Center Board, remarked that "the successful transition of the Farm Link Program to independent status is an excellent example of the role the state can play in providing assistance to both its citizens and economy. We look forward to the continued success of Farm Link in their efforts to sustain agriculture by keeping the next generation of farmers on the land."

Marion Bowlan, charter director of the Farm Link Program, has located the new office of Farm Link, Inc., to The Point Shopping Center, Suite 205, I-83 and Union Deposit Road, Harrisburg, PA 17111. The new phone number for Farm Link is (717) 558-7726.

Pasture Walk Aug. 22

FREDERICK, Md. — The August Pasture Walk for Frederick County, Maryland, will be held on Friday, Aug. 22 from 10 a.m. until noon. Steve and Ruth Ann Derrenbacher will be hosting the event at Heirland Farm.

The Derrenbachers began the grazing year with more than 300 beef stockers. Because of the dry weather, they have reduced animal numbers to meet the plant growth on the 135-acre farm. In addition to the permanent pastures consisting of fescue, orchardgrass, bluegrass, and clover, they have also planted perennial ryegrass for early and late season grazing along with switchgrass and bluestem as warm season grasses.

The purpose of the pasture walk is to allow livestock producers a chance to learn more about the use of rotational grazing as a way to increase agricultural profitability. Most of the time will be spent walking through the pastures discussing plant growth, fencing, watering systems, and animal performance.

Heirland Farm is located between Woodsboro and Union Bridge at 11021 Renner Road. From Route 75 (Green Valley Road) in Johnsville, go 1.6 miles on Renner Road to farm on the right.

Farmers Worldwide Go 'Greener,' Study Finds

DENVER, Colo.— A reduction of pesticide use and switching to less damaging substances have reduced the risk to the environment in the United States by 66 percent since 1987, according to "Farmers since Rio — the contribution of farmers' organizations toward sustainable development," a study conducted by the International Federation of Agricultural Producers (IFAP).

The study also shows that Swedish farmers have reduced pesticide use by 70 percent since 1985 and that German farmers have reduced pesticide use by over 50 percent since 1990. In the Netherlands, energy efficiency in the horticulture sector has improved by 40 percent over the past 15 years and will improve by an additonal 10 percent by the year 2000.

"This is a trend in many parts of the world, as chemical use declines and fertilizer use is better targeted by using better technology," said Graham Blight, IFAP president. On the other hand, said Blight, those "who live in poverty aren't likely to do much for the environment. Someone who's concentrating on feeding their family the next day cannot have a major interest in the environment."

National Farmers Union President (NFU) Leland Swenson, who chairs an IFAP committee that encourages cooperation between developed and less developed countries, said he believes the study demonstrates that independent family farmers and ranchers are the best and most cost-efficient stewards of natural land and water resources.

The IFAP report was issued prior to this week's special session of the United Nations General Assembly on environmental and development progress made since the Earth Summit held in Rio de Janeiro in 1992.

National Farmers Union is a founding member of IFAP and a strong proponent of environmental sustainability. Swenson was an official U.S. delegate to last November's World Food Summit, which dealt with balancing world food security and environmental concerns. He was also a participant in a follow-up teleconference to the Summit that was broadcast to 15 sites nationwide May 21.

"Family farmers and ranchers are anxious to continue making environmental investments in their land if they are able to retain ownership and if public policy makes it economically feasible to make such investments," said Swenson. "It is also crucial that international trade agreements encourage such action, rather than make investments in the environment economically daunting."

Interstate Sale Of State-Inspected Meat Would Bring $56 Million To Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Allowing state-inspected meat processors to sell across state lines could mean $56 million to Ohio's economy, according to an Ohio State University study.

Today's law allows only federally inspected meat processors to ship their products to other states and restricts nearly 260 state-inspected plants from expanding into interstate markets.

But Ohio State agricultural economist Tom Sporleder found that lifting the restriction would likely increase the gross revenue of Ohio's meat processing sector by more than $36 million and improve the sector's earnings by $3.4 million. About 17 percent of the livestock slaughtered in Ohio are state inspected, compared to only 2 percent nationally.

Because of the predicted increase in meat sales, gross revenue for Ohio's businesses as a whole could improve by more than $56 million and earnings could increase by $17.4 million if the regulations were changed, Sporleder said.

The equivalent of about 125 full-time jobs also would be added to the meat processing sector and 588 jobs gained across the economy.

"The added revenue and jobs wouldn't happen the first year, but they would happen as the economy adjusts to the new law," Sporleder said.

He thinks the impact of changing the law could be even larger. The study only accounts for plants that slaughter animals. Companies that buy carcasses and process them into meat products were not included because the U.S. Department of Agriculture does not have statistics on those.

The study includes two parts. The first used a computer program designed by Sporleder called OHFOOD that accounts for the linkages of industries in the economy and estimates the potential economic influence of changes in Ohio's food and agricultural sectors. The second part looked at how changing current law specifically would affect four Ohio meat processors — Broughton Cannery in Broughton, Tyler Meat Company in Toledo, Falter Packing Company in Columbus and Blue Chip Meats in Cincinnati.

"These case studies show that the current regulation restricts small, family-owned slaughter and processing plants from expanding sales by 27 percent to 40 percent," Sporleder said.

The plants are not allowed to participate in interstate value-added specialty product markets or enter into local supply relationships with firms that distribute meat products outside of Ohio.

While changing the law would also mean state-inspected plants in other states could market in Ohio, Sporleder thinks Ohio processors would still come out ahead.

"I think Ohio processors create unique niche market and above-average-quality products that are non-substitutable," Sporleder said. "Ohio processors have distinguishable brand names and offer farmers a local outlet for their livestock."

State-inspected processors have the option to switch to federally inspected programs, allowing them to ship their products across state borders. But the cost to bring plants and equipment into federal compliance and inflexible federal inspection schedules discourage many of these smaller plants from switching, Sporleder said.

Food safety assurance is not a concern with interstate sale of state-inspected meat, because state inspection standards are required to be at least equal to federal meat and poultry inspections.

The Ohio Department of Agriculture asked Ohio State to conduct the study. Sporleder, Ohio State agricultural economics graudate student Elizabeth Belleville and Ohio State University Extension economist Constance Jackson complete the project.

ODA joined with three Ohio meat packing companies and the Ohio Association of Meat Processors in a lawsuit filed in February against the U.S. Department of Agriculture over the federal prohibition of interstate shipment of state-inspected meat and poultry products. The suit alleges the ban violates the constitutional rights to due process and equal treatment of 26 states and approximately 3,000 state-inspected meat and poultry processors nationwide.

Alderfer Auction Celebrates 10th

HATFIELD (Montgomery Co.) — Alderfer Auction Center celebrates its 10th Anniversary Thursday, Aug. 7. The public is invited to attend the festivities from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., including free root beer floats and door prizes.

The Alderfer Auction Center is located on Fairgrounds Road in Hatfield. It was developed 10 years ago to meet the changing needs of the community.

In 1959 when Sanford A. Alderfer began auctioning farms and estates, the auctions were held at the family homestead. Friends, family and local residents were the main buyers. As time passed the farmland began disappearing and Alderfer's found they were doing less farm liquidation and more household goods.

Retirement centers grew in popularity and a demand arose for partial estate sales. People wanted to keep some things to take to the retirement community. For a while Alderfer's did not do partial sales because they were not cost effective, but the demand continued to grow.

Harold Alderfer, Sanford's brother, and Vernon Martin, Sanford's son-in-law, began to combine partial estate sales and hold them on the site of the larger property. As towns grew parking became a challenge. Some residents thought the crowds were an invasion of privacy. Weather was always a factor.

Alderfer's searched to meet the needs of the community and in 1968 began renting firehalls for estate auctions and specialty auctions (coins, stamps, firearms, jewelry, and artwork). A more sophisticated crowd, including antique dealers and private collectors, began attending. Exhibition space and parking continued to be a challenge. Sanford's son, Sandy, joined the business in 1981 and helped the search for the auction solution.

In 1987, Sanford Alderfer Auction Company opened an innovative facility designed exclusively for selling by auction. The expansive building provides consignors with a sophisticated fire protection and security system, storage space, computerized inventory, certified appraisals, quarterly catalog auctions for exceptional pieces, and a comprehensive marketing and advertising program. The center is set up to handle small or large estates and consignments.

The center provides buyers with a main auditorium, big screen TV images for specialty auctions, a gallery area, a cafe with beverages, hot meals and snacks, air conditioning, clean rest rooms, and free parking.

Zeneca Seeks EPA Label

WILMINGTON, Del. — Zeneca Ag Products announced that it has submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) an application for extension of its labeled uses for Touchdown® herbicide.

This application seeks to add new uses for Touchdown in wheat, pome fruit trees, fruiting vegetables, legume vegetables, preharvest soybeans, and postemergence applications on glyphosate-tolerant soybeans. The product is already labeled for control of emerged weeds prior to planting soybeans, field corn, popcorn, and seed corn, as well as for control of weeds in citrus, stone fruit, nuts, and vines.

Touchdown is a key component of Zeneca's comprehensive range of nonselective herbicides, which includes Gramoxone and Diquat. The global nonselective herbicide market is valued at some $3 billion, with the United States accounting for a third of the total.

Bob Woods, president of Zeneca Ag Products, said, "The nonselective herbicide market is a major part of Zeneca's overall strategy and our range of products is the broadest in the industry. Touchdown is a key product in this range and we are committed to expanding its markets through registration of new uses."

Touchdown (active ingredient: sulfosate) is a systemic, translocated, nonselective herbicide that controls growing grasses, sedges, and herbaceous broadleaf weeds — both annuals and perennials. It has no residual activity in the soil and is readily metabolized through microbiological activity in the soil.

And the 20-Year Award recognizes dealerships who have served their customers with dedicated Van Dale sales and service expertise for 20 years.

New Hybrid Preview Catalogs Available

DES MOINES, Iowa — Some may consider them seed corn wish books come early. As part of the larger introduction of new corn hybrids in the history of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., "mini" preview catalogs are now available from local Pioneer product providers.

"With 27 new Pioneer® brand corn hybrids available across the country, there will be more products for grower evaluation than ever before," said Bob Heimbaugh, corn product line manager at Pioneer. "Our traditional full-line catalogs won't be released until later in the year. We've made these 'mini' preview catalogs available much earlier to give growers plenty of time to evaluate the new Pioneer hybrids during the growing season and make their selections for 1998 planting needs."

The "mini" catalogs focus on only new products adapted to the growing conditions of each area. They will include complete hybrid descriptions and rankings for yield and agronomic characteristics. In addition, the catalogs will highlight all hybrids with new value-added technologies or traits such as YieldGard™ genetic resistance to European corn borer, Liberty™ resistance and high oil.

"This year growers will see some tremendous advancements in the areas of ECB-resistant hybrids, as well as new hybrids with resistance to gray leaf spot and brittle snap. They'll want to get a catalog soon to see just what exciting new products are available in their area," Heimbaugh said.

Corn growers may receive a preview catalog by contacting their local Pioneer product providers. The catalogs also will be available at plot days and other Pioneer events throughout the summer.

BACS Field Days Set

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — On Thursday, July 24, Brubaker Agronomic Consulting Service, Inc. (BACS) will host the first of his season's several free public Field Days from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. at its research farm located on the historical Hibshman Homestead, three miles north of Ephrata.

There are more than 40 different research projects at the farm. Tours of the various research projects will be given, with field

Some ongoing research includes pesticide trials, equipment use, fertilizer comparisons, and planting studies. In addition to field corn, soybean variety trials, and numerous pesticide trials, research is also being conducted on high oil corn, Roundup Ready corn, sweet corn varieties leafhopper-restistant alfalfa, and processing pea and wheat variety trials.

Two additional public field days are scheduled for July 29 (12:30 p.m.-3:30 p.m.), Middletown, Del. and Sept. 4 (Ephrata). A free lunch for all those attending will be provided. Reservations are appreciated.

Sollenberger Silos Corp.

"HI-MOISTURE SHELLED CORN"

You know the advantages of hi-moisture shelled corn versus dry corn for animal feeding. So now consider the many advantages of POURED CONCRETE to store and protect your valuable grain.

"Our 6" thick concrete walls reflect 38% of light beams, resulting in 780 times more heat-resisting ability than steel, and 25 times more insulating power than steel."

"Our 6" thick walls have a very low leak potential compared to pre-fab silos of any kind, and a very low maintenance requirement."

"PROTECT YOUR CORN FROM THE HEAT."

These farmers from Virginia "switched" to our poured concrete silo to store their shelled corn and said: "Even during the hottest summer in our memory, the shelled corn from our poured concrete silo has kept its bright yellow color and has not heated. We have the best hi-moisture corn ever." (Cave View Farm, Inc., Weyers Cave, VA.)

MEMBER: International Silo Assn. - PA Forage & Grassland Council - American Soc. of Agric. Engrs. - Cro Storage Institute.

Model 2100
RING-DRIVE SILO UNLOADER
with new Polar Claw™ chain

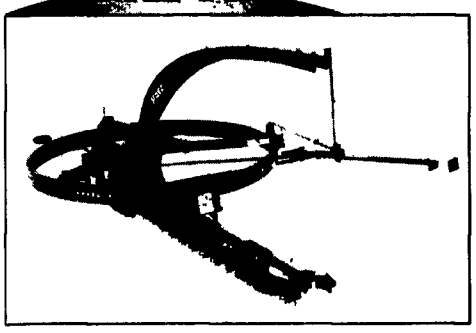
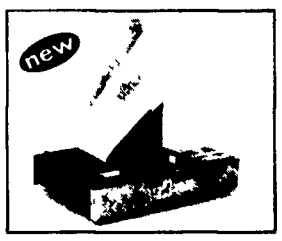
NEW





Distributor to deflect feed when filling for improved packing. For larger silos, a motorized kicker can be added.

Polar Claw™ and the Polar Claw™ logo are trademarks of Patz Sales, Inc.

new Blower for easy servicing
- Replaceable lower blower band with extra-thick, 1/4-inch steel.
- 4 swinging, adjustable, cupped paddles with stainless steel pins.
- Double-groove pulley with taper bore hub.

new An optional independent electric motor rotates the unloader and distributor while filling.

new The Polar Claw is ideal for frozen and hard-packed silage. The cutters-and-claws chain aggressively tears silage loose and quickly moves it to the blower. Fast (634 ft./min) chain speed for high-volume delivery.

Ideal replacement unloader for your suspension:
- 3-cable tripod
- new 3-cable hexapod

Add these new features to your Model RD-820 unloader easily with a RD-2100 K.I.P (Keep It Patz) package.

Purchasing a Model 2100 is easy with financing from Patz Credit. Ask for all the details from your full-service Patz dealer.

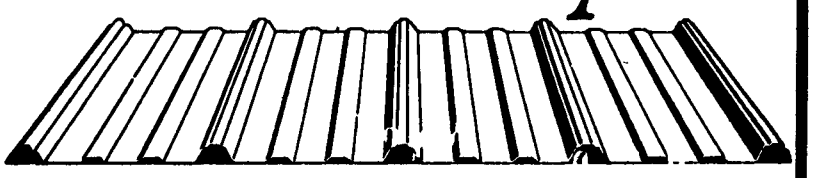
Rural Economy



Cost-efficient Centurydrain® roofing and siding is on some of the best looking buildings in the country.

Build with Centurydrain roofing and siding and you've built a money-wise structure. Full-hard, high tensile galvanized steel, and an exclusive drain channel for a dry interior give you a building that'll handle years of hard duty and hard weather. Good looking, too. Crisp lines and plenty of bright, long-lasting colors make Wheeling Centurydrain as handsome as it is economical.

Cut stall clean-out time by 50% with a Millcreek Compact Spreader.

EARL SINKS - Brock, Texas

Say "Good-Bye" to back-breaking manure handling and cut stall clean-out time in half. Hook an affordable Millcreek Compact Spreader to your 10 hp garden tractor, take it right to the stall for easy loading. No more wheelbarrow.

Millcreek Spreaders last and last
Since spreaders are our specialty, we put more into each one For example our 20-year guaranteed floor will never rust or rot. Positive chain drive provides excellent spreading action. And tough steel construction holds up to rugged farm use. Seven sizes, for 1-horse barns to 50-horse stables PTO and ground drive models available.

ATTENTION FARMERS!

While ingredient prices have soared to record levels in the past months, emphasis has been placed on grain price over quality. With prices falling now is the time to look at "value" in your grain purchases. Ask your supplier to provide you with test results of the Grains You Buy! M&R Grains of Mount Joy, PA supplies the best quality at a value price.

CASH ADVANCE PROGRAM
Production Flexibility Contracts

If waiting for your Production Flexibility Contract payments is limiting your growth or holding you back on your plans, there is now a solution The CASH *NOW PURCHASE PROGRAM allows you to sell your future contract payments for cash dollars today The flexible nature of the program allows you to.

- Sell all or part of your contract payments depending on the amount of cash you need now. Since this is not a loan, no payments are due directly from you and the cash you receive now does not show up on your books as a loan.
- Repurchase any remaining future payments due, if your needs change later.
- Raise cash, typically within 30-40 days.
- Sell payments on both owned and leased land operations.
- Limit your primary responsibility to remaining in compliance with the Production Flexibility Contract Program
- Participate in a program that is deliberately designed to allow you full control of your operation This includes provisions for selling your land, dropping out of the program, buying more qualifying land, and more.

To obtain more information and a written price offer, you need to proceed as follows:

- Contact us. We will send a one page pricing request form. Provide us payment information about your production flexibility contract on the PFC pricing request form. Since we can buy all or part of your contract payments, you need to specify the amount of capital you need now We will prepare our offer based on your figures.
- Upon acceptance of our offer, we will prepare contract documents for your signature.
- Upon request of the signed contract documents from you, we will request any additional information needed and submit the necessary document to The Farm Service Agency for their acknowledgement.
- Once The Farm Service Agency acknowledgement has been received and other conditions of closing have been met, the agreed upon funds are wired to your account

It's that simple... To inquire further, call Dick Croyle: toll free 1-888-687-8491 office 717-284-3151 - mobile 717-575-5337.

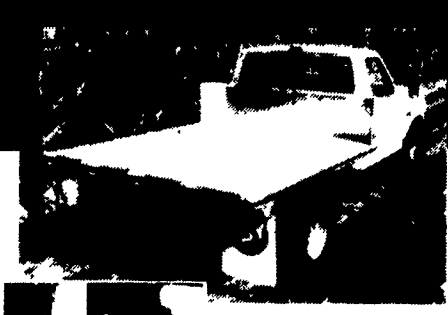
EBY BUILDS IT



M.H. Eby custom-builds aluminum truck bodies for the agri-transportation market. Nobody offers more sizes and options in:

- FLATBED BODIES - Lengths to 32', choice of 5 widths.
- GRAIN BODIES - Lengths to 24', landscape and general purpose dumps to 12'
- LANDSCAPE BODIES - Lengths to 12', We'll build to your specs!

Let EBY custom build one for you.

For greater payload capacity, Eby's aluminum design is equal in strength to steel and up to 40% lighter. Our corrosion-resistant components never need painting. That means minimum maintenance, improved appearance and higher resale value.

Eby products have superior standard features. And we offer customer options for virtually any application. Agriculture is your business - building bodies to haul it is ours.

PURINA DAIRY HERD PROFILE

BIG WAY

For Bill and Jim Search at Big Way Dairy Farm near Cream Ridge in New Jersey, the milk production on their 115 registered Holsteins is higher than they ever expected cows could milk. In the June DHIA test they had 39 cows milking more than 100 pounds with 15 of these cows fresh, with first calf. But even more outstanding, the whole herd was averaging 90 pounds of milk per day.

"When others talked about this kind of production, I didn't believe it," Jim said. "But they knew something we didn't. Now with Purina's help we know it can be done if everything is put together right."

Daily milk weights are fed into the computer from the carousel milking parlor so any drop in production is recognized immediately. In the photo are Eugene Garrett, Purina Mills dairy specialist, left, Bill Search, seated, and Jim Search.

The Search family started farming here in 1946. The dairy herd increased in size over the years. Later, another farm was purchased and both farms were put into the farmland preservation program. They farm 700 acres. Corn, corn silage, haylage, and alfalfa form the roughages that are balanced with Purina's custom-blend mix for the cows. The whole herd is fed as one top production group.

The Search family pays attention to details. Milking equipment is kept in top working order. The freestalls are kept as comfortable as possible. A water spray system at the bunk feeders keeps the cows cool in summer.

Three years ago when the brothers started feeding Purina, the herd average was 19,340 pounds of milk. Today, the latest rolling herd average is 24,431m 832f 781p.

"We especially like the service we get from the Purina consultants," Bill said. "They are here every month more than once to check the cows. They spend time obtaining dry matter content of our home-grown forages so the feeding program is perfectly balanced."

Would the Search brothers recommend Purina to other dairy farmers? "Absolutely," Bill said. "The feed is excellent. We are getting superb service, and the Purina consultants are very knowledgeable."
